ROGERS DOES SOME THINKING ON WHAT PERSUADES JURYMEN

(Special To The News)
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Oct. 29.—Our attention in the last few days has been focused on juries, and from what we read about it, the personal opinion of the jurymen after listening to all the testimony don't seem to mean much. It's how strong-minded and persuasive some of the other jurymen are.

Look at the Fall case. First ballot, seven for acquittal, two undecided, and only three for conviction. Yet in the end the three switched all the others. It wasn't the evidence, for they had heard all of it before they took the first ballot, so it looks like a lot of jurymen ought to be lawyers, for they are evidently more convincing than the lawyers.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEW OBSERVES

There was ice noticeable this morning. The wind also was quite brisk, and had the feel of winter in it.

According to announcement made by Professor C. M. Haffner of the University of Wisconsin, a shower of meteors is due about the middle of November.

In New Castle along with every other city of the land, attention is being given by postal authorities to the preparation for the annual Christmas mail deluge. Postmaster General Brown estimates that between 65,000 and 70,000 additional clerks and carriers will be needed, along with 3,000 temporary mail clerks.

Handlers of Christmas electrical decorations should provide an extra supply for their trade here this coming holiday season, Pa. Newc observes. The Pennsylvania State Educational association convention will be in New Castle during the holidays with some 4,000 or 5,000 visitors, and New Castle citizens will even outdo the notable Christmas decorations of preceding years. The city has been beautifully decorated at holiday season for several years, and the effects this year will be more elaborate than ever.

It has often occurred to Pa. Newc that the city is losing an opportunity to secure a little revenue from the old central fire station on East street, and also to aid in eliminating some little parking congestion on the streets. Why not make use of the old fire station as a storage or parking garage. Fifteen or 20 cars could be taken care of, Pa. Newc would surmise.

Anybody received their 1930 license plates yet? Applications have been out for several weeks. Are the plates arriving in the city or county? Got yours? Let Pa. Newc know.

While fires continue to occur in the outlying districts surrounding the city, apparently no agreement has ever been reached between the city and townships concerning the matter of sending city fire apparatus outside the city limits. New Castle is perfectly willing to render whatever aid is possible, but there should be some sort of agreement worked out, as the call for assistance from this city is becoming greater.

Real practical experience in household economics is the lot of teacher and pupils at the township school just on the edge of the city at the end of the Highland avenue car line, one could safely say. The building is heated by coal stoves of the type used in the old red brick of earlier years. Making fires, carrying out ashes, and carrying in coal, are a part of the daily routine at this school, either for teacher or pupils. Early this morning the teacher was getting the school heated up for the day's classes.

And by the way, as a suggestion to Neshaunk township. Why not have a number of fire hydrants placed in the township. The water mains go

RECEPTION TONIGHT USHERS IN PROGRAM

Headquarters At The Castle—Sessions In Big Cathedral

From every corner of the old Keystone state, delegates of the Daughters of the American Revolution are arriving today, and all morning and afternoon The Castle lobby was filled as the delegates greeted each other, got their rooms assigned, and registered for the thirty third annual conference which opens tonight in the Cathedral.

The influx of the women began Monday evening with the arrival of Mrs. Joseph M. Caley, State Regent and a number of National Vice Presidents-General from other states. The registry booth has been placed in the Falls street entrance of The Castle and as each delegate registers she is given a package containing an illustrated booklet of New Castle, some stationery, and trinkets which she will find interesting.

Gavel Falls At 8:30
While there will be no business transacted this evening, the conference formally opens at 8:30 when a musical will be presented in the west lodge room of the Cathedral. ### Rev. Straon Dies Of Short Illness

Noted Militant Fundamentalist Pastor Of New York Church Dies In Sanitarium

(International News Service)
CLIFTON SPRINGS, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Rev. John Roach Straon, militant fundamentalist of New York, died at the private sanitarium here at 5:45 a. m. today.

His wife was with him at the time of death which was said to have been caused by a heart attack.

Dr. Straon, who was pastor of the Calvary Baptist church in New York, had been ailing for some time. His death, however, was unexpected.

Dr. Straon had been treated for the last few weeks at the sanitarium after a nervous breakdown. Always a strong defender of Pentecostal services and a literal interpretation of the Bible, Dr. Straon clashed frequently with leaders of modern thought in the church.

He lent his support to the late William Jennings Bryan at the famous Scopes trial at Dayton, Tenn. in 1925 in the battle against the teaching of the Darwinian theory of evolution.

One Time Canal Station Makes Way For Progress

One of the landmarks of Lawrence county is being razed today to make room for improvements planned by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. The building at New Castle Junction which housed the restaurant and police department is the building that was once used as the station of the old canal.

Near this point is where the main line of the canal and the slackwater leading to New Castle converged and the station nearby handled the passengers and freight.

Hoover Alone Can Prevent Collapse Of Tariff Fight

Tariff Revision Champions Urge President Hoover To Take Hand

HOPELESS TASK LEADERS CLAIM

Senate Finance Committee Has Lost Almost Complete Control; Situation Tense

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Champions of tariff revision cast their eyes toward the White House today in the hope that President Hoover will abandon his "hands off" policy and save the Hawley-Smoot bill from collapse in the Senate.

Unless the president speaks, it was predicted, the bill will be hopelessly mired in the bog of senatorial debate and filibuster.

Appeal To Hoover
The situation which has appeared plain to Senate observers since ratification of the measure were taken up a week ago, was forced into the limelight by the appeal of Sen. Johnson (R) of California for action by the president to save the bill.

Complete loss of control of the Senate by the ordinarily powerful Senate finance committee, composed of regular Republicans, has produced a situation declared to be unprecedented in tariff legislation.

A Democratic-Progressive Republican coalition is writing the bill. Unless the coalition suffers remarkable reverses, it will continue to whittle down the industrial schedules and raise agricultural tariff barriers to new high levels.

Borah Scores Issue
Their plan, it is asserted by Sen. Borah (R) of Idaho and other leaders of the coalition, is exactly what President Hoover called the special session for—more protection for a few "sick industries" and a lot of protection for agriculture.

And the bill reported by the Senate finance committee, they say, provides a general revision, with unnecessarily

Cabinet Meets But No News Divulged

Hoover's Cabinet Holds Session But Refuse To Say What Transpired

(WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—While stocks dropped dizzily on the New York stock exchange today the cabinet met as usual, but there was little or no indication of any governmental action of any kind.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon was one of the last members to leave the meeting, and it is understood he discussed the market situation with the president. He had nothing to say upon leaving the White House.

President Hoover was similarly uncommunicative. At the regular Tuesday press conference he informed correspondents that he had "no news."

Numerous questions had been addressed to the president but he answered none of them.

Testimony In Plumbing Case Now Concluded

Decision In Petition Against Plumbing Inspector Up To Council

STEVENSON FINAL WITNESS IN CASE

Council today convened a court in city hall and finished the taking of testimony in the case of the Master Plumbers and Journeymen Plumbers association which presented a petition which charged incompetence, favoritism and failure to enforce the code and which also asked for the removal of E. S. Stevenson, plumbing inspector for the city. It may be some time before council hands down the result of their findings.

The inquiry was resumed today in city hall and while there were some new witnesses testimony was largely a repetition of that given on a former occasion.

Stenographer Testifies
One of the first witnesses today was Miss Daily, who testified she works for the Stevenson company, which it had been charged in the petition had been favored by the inspector.

She testified the inspector had never favored the firm and that it was she who had received telephone calls to notify Harold Stevenson to present an estimate for work at Johnson's.

On cross examination she testified that the inspector has not been identified with the firm for three years and that the money he is alleged to have received on paydays from the firm was to come out of dividends and that he was never around the shop and did not participate in its management.

Harold Stevenson, who purchased the business from E. S. Stevenson, testified on direct examination his father had not assisted in the management of the firm since 1928 and declared his father had not "tipped him off" to any jobs.

He said he had not only done work (Continued On Page Twenty-seven)

All Records May Be Broken Today In Stock Market

Plane And Five Persons Are Still Missing In West

Hunt Under Way For Passenger Plane In New Mexico

BELIEVE STORM WAS ENCOUNTERED

Fear That Plane With Crew Of Three And Two Passengers Lost

By LYLE ABBOTT
International News Service Special Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.—The bleak New Mexico Continental Divide today had claimed a second great passenger plane as its victim within two months, it is feared.

The Western Air Express eastbound plane, due at Albuquerque, N. M. Monday noon, vanished from sight in a terrific rain and windstorm near Adamana, Ariz., and had not been heard from early today as a search was organized for it.

Five persons, two passengers and three of the crew flew to an as yet unknown fate.

Last Seen Of Flier
The last person to check the air liner was R. T. Britt, Santa Fe bridge inspector, of Winslow, Ariz.

Britt was inspecting a bridge 20 miles west of Adamana when he heard the airplane's motors overhead.

The plane was flying low and eastward, Britt reported. He lost the ship in the swirling clouds from which a drenching rain was pouring. When the drone of the three motors died out and Britt could no longer hear them, the air liner became a mystery ship to the outside world.

It was only a short hundred miles, an hour's flying, to the east of the spot where the T. A. T. liner "City of San Francisco" crashed, killing eight persons on the slope of Mount Taylor, N. M., last September 3.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—President Hoover and the thousands of persons who knew Senator Theodore E. Burton personally and through his tireless efforts for world peace, today joined residents of Ohio in mourning his death here last night.

J. P. Morgan Issues Statement Today On Policy For Banks

New York Banks Plan To Require Maintenance Of Only 25 Per Cent Margins On Loans

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A statement was issued by J. P. Morgan and Company today. It said:

"It is learned this morning that many of the leading institutions, including the following: J. P. Morgan and Company, National City Bank, First National Bank, Chase National Bank, Bankers Trust Company, Equitable Trust Company, New York Trust Company, Irving Trust Company, Bank of America, are stating to their customers that for the present they plan to require the maintenance of only 25 per cent margins on their street demand loans."

This statement means that the amount of margins required to be carried against speculative stock holdings has been reduced one-half.

About a month ago stock brokerage houses put into effect a 50 per cent margin requirement against all speculative stock holdings by customers of the brokerage houses. If the brokerage houses follow the rules made by them by the banks they will also reduce their margin requirements to 25 per cent of the total market value of stocks held.

Air Mail Pilot Is Burned To Death In Wreckage Of Plane

E. M. Kane, Cleveland-Louisville Air Mail Pilot Killed In Forced Landing

(International News Service)
MT. VERNON, Ohio, Oct. 29.—E. M. Kane, an air-mail pilot on the Cleveland-Louisville route, was burned to death today in the wreckage of his airplane which caught fire after he had struck a tree in an attempted forced landing, nine miles southeast of here.

Mail Believed Lost
It is believed Kane's Cargo of mail was consumed by the flames. His value has not yet been determined.

According to William Johns, upon whose farm the craft crashed, Kane flew South over the farm and his engine was missing fire.

A few moments later, Johns said, the pilot returned and attempted to make a forced landing in a cornfield. The wing of the plane struck a tree and was torn loose. The ship was sent hurtling to the ground.

It immediately burst into flames and Kane was burned to death. His body is in a morgue here. The accident occurred in the darkness of early morning.

Kane, according to information here, was a new pilot on the Cleveland-Louisville route and was apparently unfamiliar with the emergency landing field along the way. There is one field here, which Kane probably could have made if he had known its location.

There are at least two boat loads gone. That I know. I saw them tripped over and thrown in the water," was the statement made by Fred Treuver, lookout man on the Wisconsin, who was the first survivor off the wreck to be brought into Kenosha this morning.

LAUREL AVENUE LIGHT REMOVED

Traffic Light Has Been Taken Down; New Location Not Yet Determined

Motorists driving Highland avenue last night, noticed that the much discussed traffic light at Laurel and Highland avenues has been removed.

It is not known as yet whether it will be placed at Moody and Mercer streets, or not, but sentiment on the north hill is that it should be at this intersection.

Coast Guards Rescue Most Of Lake Ship Crew

All But 17 Of Sixty Who Left Sinking Ship Are Picked Up

STEAMER FOUNDERS OF KENOSHA, WIS.

Fear That Those Still Missing Have Gone Down In Lake

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Seven known dead. Sixty-four saved in thrilling rescues. One missing.

That was the toll exacted by a terrific storm on Lake Michigan today which sent the steamer Wisconsin to the bottom, four miles off Kenosha, Wis. The scene was only a few miles from where the car-ferry Milwaukee foundered a week ago with a loss of 52 lives.

The last of the survivors, fifteen men, were taken from a life raft by coast guards and rushed to hospitals.

Among the identified dead were: Julius Buschman, Manitowoc, Wis., chief engineer; Victor Estes, deck-hand, address unknown; James Doherty; Tony Mados.

Among the rescued were Sanders Grant, 24, of New York; John Crane of Pittsburgh and C. H. Sjostrand, 25, of Buffalo.

The rescue of the last survivors and the finding of the dead wrote final to one of the most dramatic chapters in the history of the lake.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Searching coast guard crews have picked up all but seventeen men of the sixty who left the steamer Wisconsin as it foundered and sank early today in Lake Michigan off the Kenosha, Wis., harbor in one of the worst storms that has swept the lake in recent years.

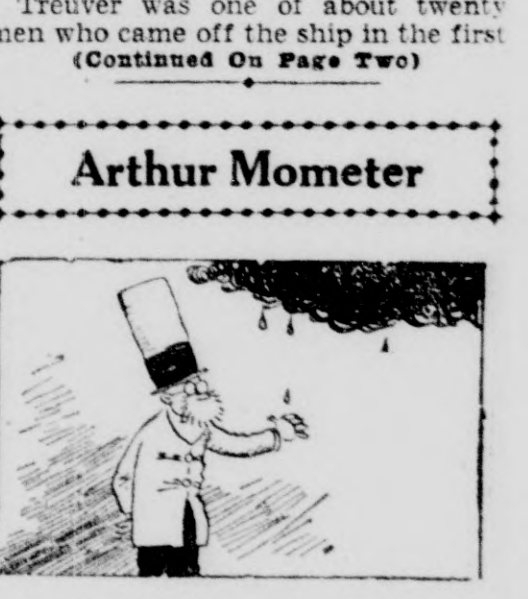

All were life-belts and were able to remain afloat as the small boats battled the waves, searching for the floating figures.

Capt. Douglas Morrison was one of the seventeen men who was thrown into the water when the ship filled and sank. Many of the survivors are in critical condition due to exposure in the cold water and biting wind.

Two Boat Loads Gone

Arthur Mometer

He bought the stock at one hundred and six, and they told him it was a buy, they urged him to carry an armful or more, they assured him it would go high. So he loaded himself with just one thousand shares and the margin was fixed for him so, he settled himself back in the stock market chair prepared then to watch his stock go. It went mighty fast, but it galloped straight down, like a leaf that is caught in a gale, and he ponders today on the choice of a seat in the park or a bench in the jail. Oh those stock market blues have the market today, and the boys are bemoaning their fate, to think they got caught with an armful of stock, on a margin, it's cool, forty-eight.

Grundy Grilled On Farm Relief

Senate Lobby Committee Desires To Obtain Farm Relief Aims Of Joseph Grundy

STABILIZED BY HIGH TARIFF

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—While the proposed bill of Senator Hiram Bingham (R) of Conn., was postponed by the senate's early adjournment today, the lobby investigating committee probed the farm relief aims of Joseph R. Grundy, Pennsylvania political leader and greatest of all industrial tariff advocates.

Grundy declared American agriculture could be stabilized by high tariff protection and that relief measures have already been undertaken by the president's farm board. He vigorously opposed, however, any effort to reduce industrial rates as a method of placing agriculture on an economic parity with industry.

Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, leader of the senate's tariff revolt, directed the cross-examination of Grundy.

right through the most thickly populated section of the township and fire hydrants could easily be placed. It is of little avail for New Castle firemen to go out into the country with fire engines and hose if there are no water mains in the district.

These are boom days around stores where hunting supplies and ammunition are sold. The small game hunting season opens on Friday, November 1.

A lot of porch lights are doing extra duty at the present time. Many residents of the city are keeping their porches lighted as a safeguard against mischief by pre-halloween celebrations. Youngsters have been especially busy with soap in certain sections of the city, it is noted. Likewise, other stunts have been reported recently. Police are on the trail of these pre-halloweeners and they will be severely dealt with when apprehended. Some twenty or more have been caught and taken before the mayor.

Street department employees are repairing the depressions in Highland avenue paving, near Lincoln avenue, today. A good job.

Changing the parking rules on North street between East and Neshannock will make a convenience for traffic on the street, but what Pa Newc cannot understand is why a main travelled street is being allowed to remain in the torn up condition that one side is now.

Young Pa Newc got a landscape view of New Castle's newest buildings yesterday. Those who enter the city via the Youngtown-New Castle interurban line during this period of the year when no leaves obstruct the view can see the Jameson Memorial hospital, the George Washington junior high further up the hill and the Cathedral. Pa Newc was thrilled as he rode along Monday and saw those outstanding works of architecture in the distance.

A visit to the Union township school or Shenango township school will prove a surprise to any who have never been there. Both schools for some time have been operating on the city school plan. Practically everything that is taught in the city schools is also taught there. County school enrollments are growing.

There are chimneys in New Castle's downtown section that need repairs. A wind with but little force might blow them over, possibly injuring someone. Property owners should watch them. In the last few days Pa Newc has seen one or two chimneys which didn't look overly safe.

Although today is a raw day out, the temperature this morning was higher than when the recording thermometers were set at the local weather observation station yesterday morning. The minimum of 29 degrees was recorded yesterday morning at 9 o'clock.

New Castle citizens are asked to keep in mind the fact that Friday, November 1, is donation day at the Jameson Memorial hospital. With the great increase in the number of patients in the institution, additional food supplies are needed. Fruits, jellies and canned goods are asked for.

New Castle kiddies will have plenty of opportunity to celebrate Halloween this year, with two big parades and celebrations in the downtown district.

PLANE AND FIVE PERSONS ARE STILL MISSING IN WEST

here ordered a swift search ship from its Los Angeles airport early today. From Albuquerque, a station of the W. A. E. Airway to Kansas City, a second company tri-motor plane was to depart shortly after daybreak.

At Gallup, headquarters of the ground search for the "City of San Francisco", a crew of riders was to take the field.

According to Inspector Britt, the airplane plunged into stormy weather that was beating westward against a strong wind.

"I was at my work," said Britt, "when I heard the motors and caught a glimpse of the ship flying low."

"The clouds were low and it was raining very heavily."

"The motors sounded strong and ran without a break. The ship did not appear to be in trouble."

Western Air Express officers here asserted the company had no reports at the time of adverse weather near the Arizona-New Mexico border.

The air line company maintains a line of airports and emergency landing fields along the Santa Fe mainline between Los Angeles and Albuquerque. Its stations are equipped with their own telegraph system. Radio stations are also maintained, but the missing air liner was not equipped for radio reception.

The pilot who flew the plane into the unknown was "Jim" Doles, 28, an army trained pilot with nearly 2,800 hours of flying time.

He was assisted by A. A. Barrie, 26, of Burbank, Calif.

The passengers aboard were Dr. Abraham W. Ward, noted San Francisco dental surgeon, and W. E. Merz, businessman of Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

Dr. Ward was bound for Fort Worth, Tex., to address a convention of dentists.

Merz had recently returned to the United States from a trip around the world, landing at San Francisco. He is a buyer of woolen fabrics for the Buckle-Hartford Carpet Co. of 385 Madison avenue of New York City. Merz is a graduate of Fordham College.

boat to be launched. It crashed against the side of the ship and sank. "I can swim fairly well but the cold was bitter and the battering of the waves weakened me fast. I grabbed hold of a bit of wreckage and hung on."

"While I was holding there two other boats came over the side and tipped over. Some of the boys struggled in the water, but others just threw up their hands and went down. I think the coast guards got some of them."

Abandon Ship.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Their ship foundering and setting under them in one of the worst storms on Lake Michigan in years, fifty-five crewmen and five passengers of the Steamer Wisconsin early today were attempting to fight their way ashore at Kenosha, Wis., in lifeboats.

Efforts of rescue ships have proven futile. Three lines fastened to the ship have snapped, and the buffeting of the 45-mile-an-hour gale has sent the Wisconsin's sister ship, the Illinois limping back to port.

Likewise, the tug Butterfield has been defeated in its efforts to assist the stricken boat and returned to shore.

"We are abandoning ship," read the last radio message from Capt. Douglas Morrison.

"Ship is foundering. Can't stay afloat any longer. Not enough lifeboats for all. Some will have to swim," the tragic message continued. Further attempts to reach the ship by radio from the Radio Corporation of America proved to no avail, indicating that the captain or the radio operator had left.

The Racine, Wis., and Kenosha life guard crews were standing by ready to give assistance, but the heavy seas kept the men fighting to keep their small motor boats afloat.

Four miles of the roughest seas Lake Michigan has seen in many years are separating the sixty men from shore and safety. It is doubtful that they can reach shore.

The Wisconsin first called for help at 2 a. m. This was followed by repeated calls for assistance and S. O. S. messages which were answered by the Illinois and the Butterfield.

The ship, crippled by the waves' buffeting, fought its way to within four miles of the Kenosha Harbor when the water reached the fire hold and extinguished the boilers. Without steam, the freighter lay helplessly in the troughs of the waves.

Deaths of the Day

Hiram G. Miller Funeral.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon for the late Hiram G. Miller, one of New Castle's pioneer business men, from the family residence, 425 Hiram way. Mr. Miller died Friday, October 25, following a stroke, but had been active in his real estate and insurance business up until the time he had been stricken. A number of out of town people attended the services which were in charge of Rev. W. W. Sniff, assisted by Rev. G. S. Bennett and Rev. R. G. Roscamp. Pallbearers included R. G. Carpenter, J. M. Carpenter, Almon R. Shafter, B. C. Pence, C. V. Shaffer and G. S. Sherman.

Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

State Police Raid Two Crap Shooting Games On Monday

As a result of complaints made through the district attorney's office, two groups of crap shooters, one on West Grant street and the other in Oakland, were raided by State Police Officer Schulich and Constables Michael Mescal and James Ellison.

At the Grant street game nine of the ten players were rounded up and have paid fines of $10 each before Alderman William E. Marshall.

When the officers arrived in the Oakland district they found several score playing and the result was that they were handicapped and secured but three, the balance escaping.

District Attorney Bryan announces that he is determined to break up this crap shooting practice and that the next time there will be sufficient officers to round up the entire crowd and that the maximum fines will be asked and imposed.

HOOVER ALONE CAN PREVENT COLLAPSE OF TARIFF FIGHT

high rates for industry and scant hope for agriculture.

The only intimation of Mr. Hoover's stand that has reached the Senate apparently is that he wants limited revision and wants action. He is known to have disapproved the high rates and extensive revision of the house bill. The Senate finance committee cut down many rates. But there have been intimations that Mr. Hoover is not yet satisfied.

Feeble Resistance
Although "old guard" Republicans have thus far offered feeble resistance to the coalition they have refused to acknowledge their control and surrender the job of tariff legislation to them. Unless one fraction yields, it is admitted the unlimited debate rule of the Senate is certain to prevent completion of the bill for many weeks.

Curiously enough, the "old guard" Republicans, who have been long championed high tariff legislation are being twitted by the opposition for their apparent lack of interest in the bill.

Predictions have been made in the end of the "old guard" will be filibustering against the measure.

The chemical section of the bill—one of a dozen—was still under consideration today, with little hope that it would be completed this week.

MRS. ROBINSON IS NAMED FOR OFFICE

At the annual election of officers of the Daughters of the King held in Trinity Episcopal church last night Mrs. Ida Robinson was among those re-elected to office. She was again elected as choir mother of the Junior choir of the church, which position she has filled in a very efficient manner for some time.

Rush Sand Blasting At Pennsy Station

Extensive Property Improvements Are Being Completed At Present

Work of sand blasting the west side depot of the Pennsylvania railroad, a part of the renovation schedule which the Pennsy commenced some time ago, was well advanced today. With the baggage room razed, the station drive concreted, a new parking section established for employees and with the painting of the freight house and divisional offices completed, the appearance of the depot is an attractive one.

The sand blasting work is revealing a new red brick appearance. Besides improving other sections of their property, the Pennsylvania has also erected a new platform at the station and the track bed has been considerably improved.

Miss Elizabeth VanNatten of New Castle R. D. 2 will be the guest of her Sunday school teacher Mrs. Scott Ripple of the Harbor at a Halloween party this evening.

STAR LORE FIRST STRIDES IN TELESCOPE MARCH

By Arthur D. Carpenter.
The first astronomical telescope was a tremendous innovation in the investigation of the heavens. Galileo's little lead pipe instrument made objects appear but one-third of their real distance away, and nine times larger than when observed with the unaided eye. Who can picture the enthusiasm of this rising genius as he contemplated the possibilities now just ahead of him! Soon he produced another more exact telescope that magnified objects more than 60 times, and finally brought out one that magnified "nearly a thousand times," and made objects appear more than 30 times nearer than when viewed with the unassisted eye.

"Quelle heure avez-vous?"

"What HOUR have you?"

That's how they ask the time in Europe. In America we want to know what minute . . . so we turn to an American watch!

The easy, leisureed life of Europe is confessed in that one question. Minutes mean less. Tomorrow is as good as today.

But American life is crowded with action . . . alive with vitality . . . we're "on the go." And it takes an American watch to keep the pace! That's why we feature fine American watches . . . more faithful than any movements we have found in all the world. And more beautiful today than ever.

WELCOME, D. A. R.!

ANY city in Pennsylvania, no matter its size or importance is honored when such an organization as the Daughters of the American Revolution selects it as the site of the annual convention. The fact that New Castle has that distinction for the 1929 conference which opens tonight is one that every citizen of this city is proud of.

The Daughters of the American Revolution is more than an organization, more than just an association of women. It is a host whose ancestry goes back to the very foundation of the United States, a band of patriotic women in whose veins flows the blood of heroes.

To them, Valley Forge, Brandywine, Trenton and Kings Mountain are not merely names, they are shrines built by the blood and sacrifice of their forebears. The United States is a free nation because the men whose blood is theirs, refused to bow the knee to British autocracy.

A wonderful heritage is theirs. Heritage of patriotism, of devotion, of freedom. Little wonder that they are proud of their membership in this splendid band, for to be a member, one must show a clear lineage back to the men who served under Washington, under Greene, and under Ethan Allen, and other heroic leaders of the early days.

New Castle is truly proud of its distinction as host to the Daughters of the American Revolution. Founded by John Carlyle Stewart, himself a son of a Revolutionary hero, this city has never been found wanting in the defense of those deathless principles the men of '76 died for. The history of the Civil War finds New Castle's sons writing a glorious page, the Spanish-American War found them in Cuba, and the World War found them shedding their blood on the fields of France.

Thrice welcome, Daughters. When the history of this conference is written and you have returned to your homes, if you leave here with as warm a feeling towards New Castle as New Castle has for your organization, what little effort the conference takes to put over will be a thousand times repaid.

SUBSIDIZED FOOTBALL

A new issue of far more importance, suddenly forced upon the public attention, could not have stirred up more discussion than the report of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching on its survey of commercialism in collegiate football.

From the attention given the report it might be assumed, by those unaware of the true state of affairs, that it revealed the hitherto unknown. It is a fact that the information concentrated in this report has been unknown for years and has been the theme of more editorials, newspaper features and college chapel lectures than any other single subject in this generation.

Why all this fuss over the injection of professionalism in what is supposed to be an amateur sport? College spirit has not waned, college athletics have waxed strong and prosperous, and the game of football has never been played so well. Salaried players fill more stadiums than the mythical eleven of heroic and idolized Dick Darewells filled benches.

How are we to reconcile the claims of colleges and universities to higher entrance requirements and scholastic ratings with the protests of the super-amateurs that over-emphasis of football is undermining our institutions of higher learning from an academic standpoint?

The important thing is to have a single standard of football ethics for all schools, rather than any particular standard.

Let it be said in simple justice to the big schools, which seem to be lavishing the largest sums on the gridiron, that their brand of commercialism is hardly more reprehensible than that of the small school which, with a large guarantee as a stake, sends a light subsidized team against a heavy eleven of paid athletes.

IS THE TARIFF REVISION BILL DEAD?

Senator Reed, in his Philadelphia talk of Saturday, expressed the belief that tariff is deadlocked by the Corn Belt Bloc. Perhaps he did not mean to be taken too literally, for out of the conference committees, when that stage has been reached, may come an acceptable compromise. There is a possible chance of this.

But when Mr. Reed accused Senator Borah and his following of boosting every tariff provision touching agriculture and beating down every one touching Eastern industry he drove the nail in the right spot. It is singularly peculiar that these men can not or will not see that without prosperous industry and prosperous workers the farms would suffer immeasurably.

Why is it that they persist in attacking Pennsylvania as friendly only to manufacturing plants? Borah's state of Idaho has 42,106 farms with an acreage of 8,375,873. Pennsylvania has 202,250 farms with an acreage of 17,637,513. Is the one senator which the senate permits Pennsylvania to have to be suspected of hostility to these great agricultural interests? Pennsylvania has 77,000 more farms and $400,000,000 more invested in them than the average of seven of the so-called agricultural states. These seven are Arizona, Arkansas, South Dakota, Idaho, Mississippi, Montana and Wisconsin—the homes of particularly radical industry batters. Is Pennsylvania deliberately scuttling its grand army of agriculturists? That's absurd on its face.

The Republican platform adopted at Kansas City pledged protection for the farms and also for such industrial establishments that were in need of higher duties. Senator Borah himself stood on that platform and spoke from it and for it throughout the presidential campaign. He and his handful of insurgents, falsely claiming to be Republicans, must assume full responsibility for a breakdown that results in no tariff legislation whatever, including farm relief.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Sentence Sermons

By Rev. Roy D. Smith, D. D.

PROMISE YOURSELF THAT—

You will think high thoughts and you will live loftily.

You will believe those things about other people which you want believed about yourself.

You will keep so busy about your work that you will forget yesterday's failures.

You will rejoice with the next man you find rejoicing, for thus you will make a friend.

You will use the time in self-improvement which you have been spending in knocking.

You will live today so that no deputy sheriff can scare you tomorrow.

You will be a friend to the man in need that you may have a friend when you are in need.

Correct this sentence: "His dad is chairman of the school board," said the teacher, "but I'm going to flunk him."

AMERICANISM: Tearing down improvements worth millions because we have outgrown them; spending millions for new ones that make no allowance for growth.

Today

Much About Russia.
Good Airplane News.
Why Not Mr. Kahn?
Can Wheat Be Bolstered?

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features
Syn., Inc.)

The Russian government is carrying out its plan to spend, on industrial development, $6,750,000,000 in five years. The first year's expenditure is made. The money is ready for the second year.

E. J. Kvirring, head of the Russian State Planning commission, tells American engineers in Moscow that Russia will surpass the United States in industrial production.

That may be enthusiastic exaggeration, for "it hath not yet been shown what we shall be."

But it is probable that Russia will become our greatest industrial rival. There is terrific power in revolutionary enthusiasm. It sweeps away cobwebs, making everything seem easy, as shown in France when revolutionists overcame the armies of Europe and frightened half a dozen kingdoms, including England.

However, that enthusiasm dies out as the leaders grow rich. Proudhon, super-revolutionist, put it in a few words: "Monarchies are destroyed by poverty, republics by wealth."

A proposal to establish the calendar on a sabbath basis failed to get two-thirds majority, but did get a majority, in a nationwide referendum among business organizations. The work for the new calendar has been useful in education. Mr. George Egan, of Rochester, has done the greater part.

Meanwhile, Russia has changed her year without loss of time and in a way to amaze American labor unions, gloating over the bare beginnings of five-day working week.

In Russia, labor works four days, then rests one day. There are no Sundays, no religious or other holidays, except four official Bolshevik celebrations.

But every fifth day is a rest day. In 70 days the American worker has 10 Sundays off. In 70 days the Russian worker will have 14 days of rest. And Russians say they will beat us in industrial production.

The theory is that a man well-rested produces more. And while men rest one day, after four days' work Russia proposes to keep machines running night and day, all year round, with three eight-hour shifts of men. "No rest for machinery, except for repairs. Plenty of rest for men" is the Russian plan.

It might help the unemployment problem elsewhere.

Important flying news. Commander Moshkof and three other aviators of the Russian government have flown over the Pamir Mountains, from Tashkent to Khorog on the Afghan border, and back. The temperature flying through a pass in the mountains, 17,360 feet high with stone precipices 3,000 feet higher on either side, was 70 degrees below zero.

American high finance, still remembering its Russian-bond stomach-ache, quite naturally repudiated, will observe that Russia is at work. In proportion to her means she does more pioneer work in aviation than is done in this country.

What engineers call "the nearest approach to a nothing-but-wing" plane is shown in Germany. Tallies, shaped like an arrow, it has a propeller that pushes one 8-horsepower motor, and goes 78 miles an hour. To learn to run this plane is easy. Only a 30 to 40-foot run is needed for a take-off.

THE DAILY MARCH

Over and over life's dusty road Marches the troop of man. At morning out of the calm abode To labor and scheme and plan. At evening after the struggle's test, Back to the barracks of home to rest.

Duty's bugle at break of day Summons the toilers all. Out of the houses where children play Into ranks they fall.

And never the male of men will stop To field and mine and mill and shop.

Some to fortune and some to fame Shall come from the passing years. But the dusty road shall stretch the same.

Till the end of the world appears And always at night at some little gate Shall children watch and the women wait.

No end no end to the toil of man Shall ever the old world see. As it was when the struggle of life began.

So it shall always be. Dawn shall summon the toilers out. And at eve towards home shall they face about.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:02. Sun rises tomorrow 6:26.

We have noticed that no matter how reckless and careless an auto driver is he always blames the other fellow when he gets what is coming to him—and he most always gets it if he runs long enough.

A Charleroi, Pa., man heard a racket in his corner and fired a couple of barrels of shot at the noise. He found out just then that he had riddled his own son, who was a member of a gang of Halloween marauders. It's a wise parent who knows what his son or daughter does in Halloween time—and none will believe if told.

The hard part of establishing football in Mexico will be to persuade eleven men to fight for the same thing that long.

Very few pumpkin pies fit to eat are made from the pumpkin that is brought ripe from the field. About 999-10 of the real edible pumpkins are made from punk out of cans! It takes an artist to make a punk pie out of a field punk.

From our observation we have come to the conclusion that it is far better to make a contribution to the community chest than to incur the censure of several hundred good people who will know that the refusal was made. Lots of birds lose ten times more than a good contribution amounts to. Helping the local charities is a duty and obligation and all who can should help even if not much.

It's surprising to find in Who's Who a complete list of the famous people you never heard of.

Some time ago a man who stood well in the community left town without bothering to pay his debts. Lest you jump to the conclusion that you know the man, I hasten to add that a dozen or so have done the same thing within the last ten years. In fact, the custom has become so well established that no man can move to another community without promptly the natives to say one to the other: "Well, how much did he beat you out of?" There was a time, before people developed a mania for play-pretties at any price, when the dead-beat was scorned by everybody decent enough to keep out of jail and nobody pretended to see much difference between a man's buying a shirt he didn't intend to pay for and stealing a shirt he didn't intend to pay for. When a man slipped off without paying up, somebody went after him and brought him back—as somebody does now when a man slips off and cashing a few worthless checks. But in these charge-it-please days, the man who doesn't pay seems to rank as high as the man who does. Perhaps it will yet be necessary, as a matter of self-preservation, for everybody to quit paying anybody so that all of us can stand on an equal footing. It isn't fair for just a few to get free board.

In some sections of Pennsylvania farmers have had their entire crops destroyed by wild deer. The state protects the deer but will not pay the farmers for the damage done. It seems to us this is all wrong. Farmers have to raise crops to keep their families. All the deer are good for is to furnish sport for a very small per centage of the citizens at the deer hunting season and then they kill off a lot of farmers and their stock. Why not make the deer hunters pay for the damage done by the deer. You would hear a howl from the deer hunters at that, same as from dog owners in cities.

A Chicago lady charges her husband with being pig eyed for six years after drinking alcohol with a juniper berry in each bottle. He even raises his own juniper bushes. We have a lot of juniper bushes but the berries from them will not be used for such base purposes. The juniper berries are pure enough, but no one knows what the alcohol would be like. Some of it cannot even be used for external purposes without burning a hole in the hide.

A man in the east is 100 years old and has never seen a movie. He has not missed much when he has not seen some of the indifferent ones shown.

Every town has at least one man who seems very rich because he must in order to borrow the money he needs.

The Lake Bluff, Ill., lad who found a $17,500 diamond and pearl necklace in the gutter and rammed it into his pocket thinking it was from the five and ten, reminds us of the turkey gobbler that gobbled down a bright pebble just like and egg and after a homeless fly. There was a difference, however, for the boy received a reward while the turkey swallowed the diamond got the axe.

"Daring" evening gowns are for social climbers. The more they try to keep up a front, the more they let down the back.

Who remembers the farmer boy who, when the roads were bad, would cut across the fields to town with the basket of butter and eggs and after trading it out at the grocery store return home with green coffee, brown sugar and other articles received in trade?

Maybe accidents are mental in origin, as Dr. Hubert says, but it's hard to believe a banana skin thinks up such hateful tricks.

If something should happen so that all these rubber tires would be replaced with iron ones, wouldn't there be some racket, wouldn't the sparks fly off the wheels and, oh boy, when a car would be making about 40 and the emergency brakes were applied, wouldn't it be just like having fireworks?

Back in the early days when there were no licenses required to hunt on your own farm and pap took down his powder horn and long barreled rifle and started for the woods to shoot some squirrels, we had squirrel for dinner.

Scale Of Liquor Operations Shown By Raid Amazes Nation

Some Feel That Skill Displayed By Dry Officers In Dealing With Big Organizations Indicates Results In Future

Amazement is expressed at the scope of operations conducted by a bootlegging ring on the Eastern coast, as disclosed by a series of simultaneous raids by government dry officers. There is much comment on the fact that the methods of big business were employed in law violation. Action by the federal forces is hailed as a turn for the better in the prohibition situation.

The magnitude of the proceedings is emphasized by the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS, with the statement that "no rum-smuggling organization of this size and importance has ever before become involved with the Federal government." That paper concludes that "evidently the syndicate has been functioning successfully for a long time," and that "profits are so great that, although this particular organization will have to suspend, another will soon take its place."

It is one of the stoutest blows the enforcement authorities have struck against the bootlegging industry," says the CHARLESTON EVENING POST. "The smashing of this organization," in the opinion of the Evening Post, "was a real achievement, and while it will not put an end to rum running, it will undoubtedly give the prohibitionists something to stand on in an argument as to the possibilities of effective enforcement. In the war between the government and the bootleggers, the government has won an important victory. What the cost of it may have been and what it may show the cost of comparatively complete enforcement to be is another matter."

The results appeal to the KANSAS CITY JOURNAL-POST as giving support "to the contention of George Y. Wickersham, chairman of the Hoover law-enforcement investigation commission, that the ideal way to enforce prohibition is to have the national government handle the big bootleggers—the wholesalers, so to speak—while the state and local authorities handle the little ones, who might be called the retailers." That paper argues: "At any rate, only the federal government can handle smugglers, and most smuggling is done on a big scale. By this raid, the federal agents were more effective than if they had arrested scores of joint keepers."

The extent to which this raid is a blow to the illicit traffic in liquor," in the judgment of the LYNCHBURG ADVANCE, "will be determined when the cases go to court. If convictions are secured against the rum runners, if lawyers and bankers who are charged with giving assistance to the liquor syndicate are penalized, if officials who have taken bribes at the rate of $30,000 a week can be brought to justice and the service purged of them, then a smashing blow will have been dealt by the prohibition unit. It seems unlikely that so much publicity would have been given the case unless the officials believed they would be able to do these things."

Hope is expressed by the ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION that "the principals, the men who were directing operations and raking in the lion's share of the illegal gain, have been caught." The paper holds that "they deserve heavier punishment than their tools, though all engaged were lawbreakers." The Times-Union advises that exposure of such extensive rum-running and bootlegging operations ought to stimulate New York and New Jersey to give much better cooperation in hunting down such bands."

The HERALD says of the previous recaptured "the government measures for combating the outlawed trade were inadequate to the point of absurdity." Commenting on the power of money which had enabled the organization to conduct the operations disclosed by the government, the CANTON DAILY NEWS remarks: "Set loose in the community a thousand per cent profit and the town will be morally shot up before the game is cooked." THE LITTLE ROCK ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT finds "just another instance of American genius for organization gone wrong, an exemplification of the truth of the old saw that 'it is a poor rule that doesn't work both ways.' That paper is impressed by the fact that members of the ring 'have been furnished with funds just as though they were makers of steel, bakers of bread or distributors of any other human necessity.'"

"An illegitimate trade attracted capital, the owners of which were not finicky on the subject," states the INDIANAPOLIS NEWS, "for the simple reason that it held out the prospect of big financial returns. Furthermore, the chance of losing through discovery of the business, was reduced by bribery. Considering good fortune was a factor in giving the national officials a clue." THE SPRINGFIELD UNION offers the comment of the situation: "That an illicit business can be organized on such a large scale in spite of the risks indicates what tremendous profits are involved, and measures the difficulties facing the government in the enforcement of the prohibition laws."

The threats involved in such operations are voiced by the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN as "directed not only against enforcement of the prohibition of liquor, but against every law by which the government attempts to safeguard the material or moral interests of its citizens." That paper thinks that "the situation justifies the utmost expenditure of effort and money to thwart the conspiracy," that "it makes assistance by other nations not only a matter of comity, but of self interest."

Referring to payments to public officials by the LYNCHBURG ADVANCE, remarks that "apparently the shrewd chaps who operate the bootlegging syndicates don't agree with those wet spokesmen who say that the prohibition law cannot be enforced." THE ASBURY PARK EVENING PRESS avers that "the government has proved its ability to cope with the situation, and, unlike its predecessors, the present administration has indicated a desire to meet a problem which has long been evaded." THE JAMESVILLE GAZETTE sees in the action evidence that "the government is not flinching around about this liquor enforcement."

"More has been done in the last three months than in a year previously, to get at the big rum makers. The gangsters in Chicago have been hard hit by the new attorney general, and everywhere the still business is getting more hazardous. And this last large news story will be a warning that others are to follow."

WHAT AIR PILOTS RECEIVE.

The average airplane pilot of a regular schedule American air transport line earns $656 a year, and works an average of less than two and one-half hours a day.

This statement is made by the aeronautics branch of the United States Department of Commerce in a preliminary report of the operations of air transport lines for the latter half of 1928.

The figures were compiled from the records of twenty-five major air transport companies in the country, who during the period covered by the report, employed two hundred and seventy-five pilots, probably the pick of the transport pilots in America, outside of the Army and Navy.

The same report showed that the average pilot during the six-month period flew a total of slightly more than 20,000 miles, or an average of about 40,000 miles a year.

This report did not call any ones attention to the skill or the courage demanded of the pilot. The drawer of the report seemed worried about the working hours per day of the pilot—as the $5,556 per annum was a large recompense for such short hours.

That intangible factor of public confidence and security, which is so important in the business world, is bound to suffer in the end unless Wall Street stops these spees. When all is said and done about the "new" conditions that exist in stocks and about the old investment rules that "don't apply," it should be clear to the most excited speculator that in a healthy market the price of stocks must bear some relation to their actual earning capacity. And corporations heads are the first to admit this basic truth about their own stocks.

A quick recovery from the national speculative debacle is all the more necessary at this time because an apparent recession in a few industries is already upon us.

Industrial activity increased less in September than is usual at this season," the Federal Reserve Board has announced.

With general business conditions healthy despite a few signs of slackening in the unusually large production of the last year, apparently the country has to fear is the disruptive effect of another highly speculative stock market and consequent crash.—Pittsburgh Press.

Thoughtful citizens cannot dismiss lightly from their minds the hectic days in the stock market, regardless of whether their material welfare was involved.

President Hoover and business leaders have given assurance that basic industrial conditions are sound. It is one thing, however, to recognize the essential soundness of business conditions, and quite another to laugh off the danger involved in repeated collapses of inflated markets.

The vast majority of business leaders, bankers and economists have agreed with the warnings of an unhealthy credit situation issued several times by the Federal Reserve Board. Therefore these experts are of the opinion that this deflation of the speculative markets which has occurred should be helpful rather than harmful to business, by liberating credit for productive industry.

But by the same reasoning any attempt to force the stock market up again to its speculative heights, and thus precipitate another and perhaps worse collapse, would be to jeopardize the national prosperity.

Final Week For Ingathering For Needlework Guild

This is the final week for members of the Needlework Guild to take their garments to their directors and it is earnestly hoped that each member will make it her business to see this is attended to.

Saturday has been set for the day for the directors to take their garments to their section presidents. There is quite a lot of detail work in connection with the ingathering but it would all be quite easy if the individual members would send in their garments punctually.

Anyone wishing to become a member of the Needlework Guild may do so by calling either the president, Mrs. James W. Smith, phone 1842 or the secretary, Miss Marion Wallace, phone 611-M.

It is hoped this will be a big year for the guild as the charities already report many requests for warm clothing and their shelves are empty. Warm underwear for women and children; baby things, stockings, sweaters and outside clothing for boys and girls; towels, sheets, pillow cases and blankets for the institutions are badly needed.

Garment members if you have not already attended to this pleasant duty do so today. Come down and buy your two articles and take or send them to your director. The stores will gladly deliver.

The ingathering will be held in the ball room of The Castleton. Notice of the date will be given later.

More Turkeys For Thanksgiving

This Year's Crop Larger Than Last Season's Production,
Says U. S. Report

The turkey crop this year will be about nine per cent larger than last year in the states leading in turkey production according to estimate given out by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Practically all leading states have increased production this year but the larger increases are in the eastern and southeastern states where the hatches have been small in recent years.

Production has increased this year in the western states but increases are less marked than in 1928. The bureau points out, however, that increases in the western area go very largely into the commercial supply so that there are likely to have a relatively greater effect on the turkey market situation than the increase in other areas.

Weather conditions were favorable for turkey raising over most of the country this year according to local growers and the adoption of better methods of handling them and the commercial hatching and sale of young turkeys are in large part credited with the increased production. The condition of the young turkeys about October 1 are reported as to be about average for that date and reports indicate a tendency in some states to push the development of the bird so as to have a larger number than usual ready for the Thanksgiving market.

This plane, revolutionizing airplane construction, according to competent engineers, costs only $800. Tens of thousands could be sold in this country.

Dr. Edmund Rumpel, of Berlin, plans a huge seaplane to carry 160 passengers across the Atlantic in 20 hours.

He should bring that idea to Mr. Sloan of General Motors, now in the airplane game, or to C. E. Mitchell, of the National City Bank, who started United Aircraft.

Plenty of money and engineering skill here. What we seem to lack is pioneering enthusiasm.

Otto H. Kahn, is chosen treasurer of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee and there is objection by some of the Western senators, called "insurgents" because they choose to think for themselves. Instead of objecting, these Western gentlemen should rejoice. And instead of dealing with high finance at a length, friends of farmers should encourage able men that understand business organization to take an interest in politics.

Mr. Kahn has proved that he understands business, including organizing and financing. He might have ideas about farm relief, for instance, that would really relieve.

You notice that when Wall street cries for relief, its friends know how to provide it.

To "bolster wheat," the Farm Board put $100,000,000 at the disposal of the Grain Corporation. What will that corporation be able to do with $100,000,000?

This first experiment in farm relief, by way of Uncle Sam's Treasury, will be interesting.

Will the relief materialize? Will it relieve farmers, of whom many have sold their wheat by now? Will it relieve wheat speculators, that gambled in wheat while others gambled in stocks and saw wheat prices crash with stock prices?

It takes more than $10,000,000 to solve a farm problem, which means fighting a disorganized industry in competition with perfect industrial organization.

What chance would a Japanese farmer, harvesting hay with a small sharp knife, have against a farmer with mowing machines?

What chance has a farmer with his mowing machine against such industrial organization as Henry Ford's?

Ford farms on rather a large scale. Ask him how much he makes out of it.

Sunday was the anniversary of Theodore Roosevelt's birthday, and President Hoover called upon the people to honor the memory of a man "of ideals." The President mentions especially Roosevelt's work for the Navy. That was important, but the one permanent Roosevelt achievement is the Panama Canal. That will remain when many presidents are remembered only by one line.

If Roosevelt were President now, by the way, he would be building, for America, the world's greatest fighting air fleet.

How men, even the stalwart and vigorous, fade as time passes over them! When President Lincoln's birthday comes around, President Hoover will say something appropriate. But he will not consider it necessary to tell the people to honor Lincoln's memory.

That is done automatically.

Since Nicholas, brother of Prince Carol, and one of the three regents running Rumania's government, driving his high-powered car in Bucharest, collided with a taxicab. His Royal Highness, big and powerful, beat the taxicab driver, finally kicking him in the stomach, sending him to the hospital in serious condition.

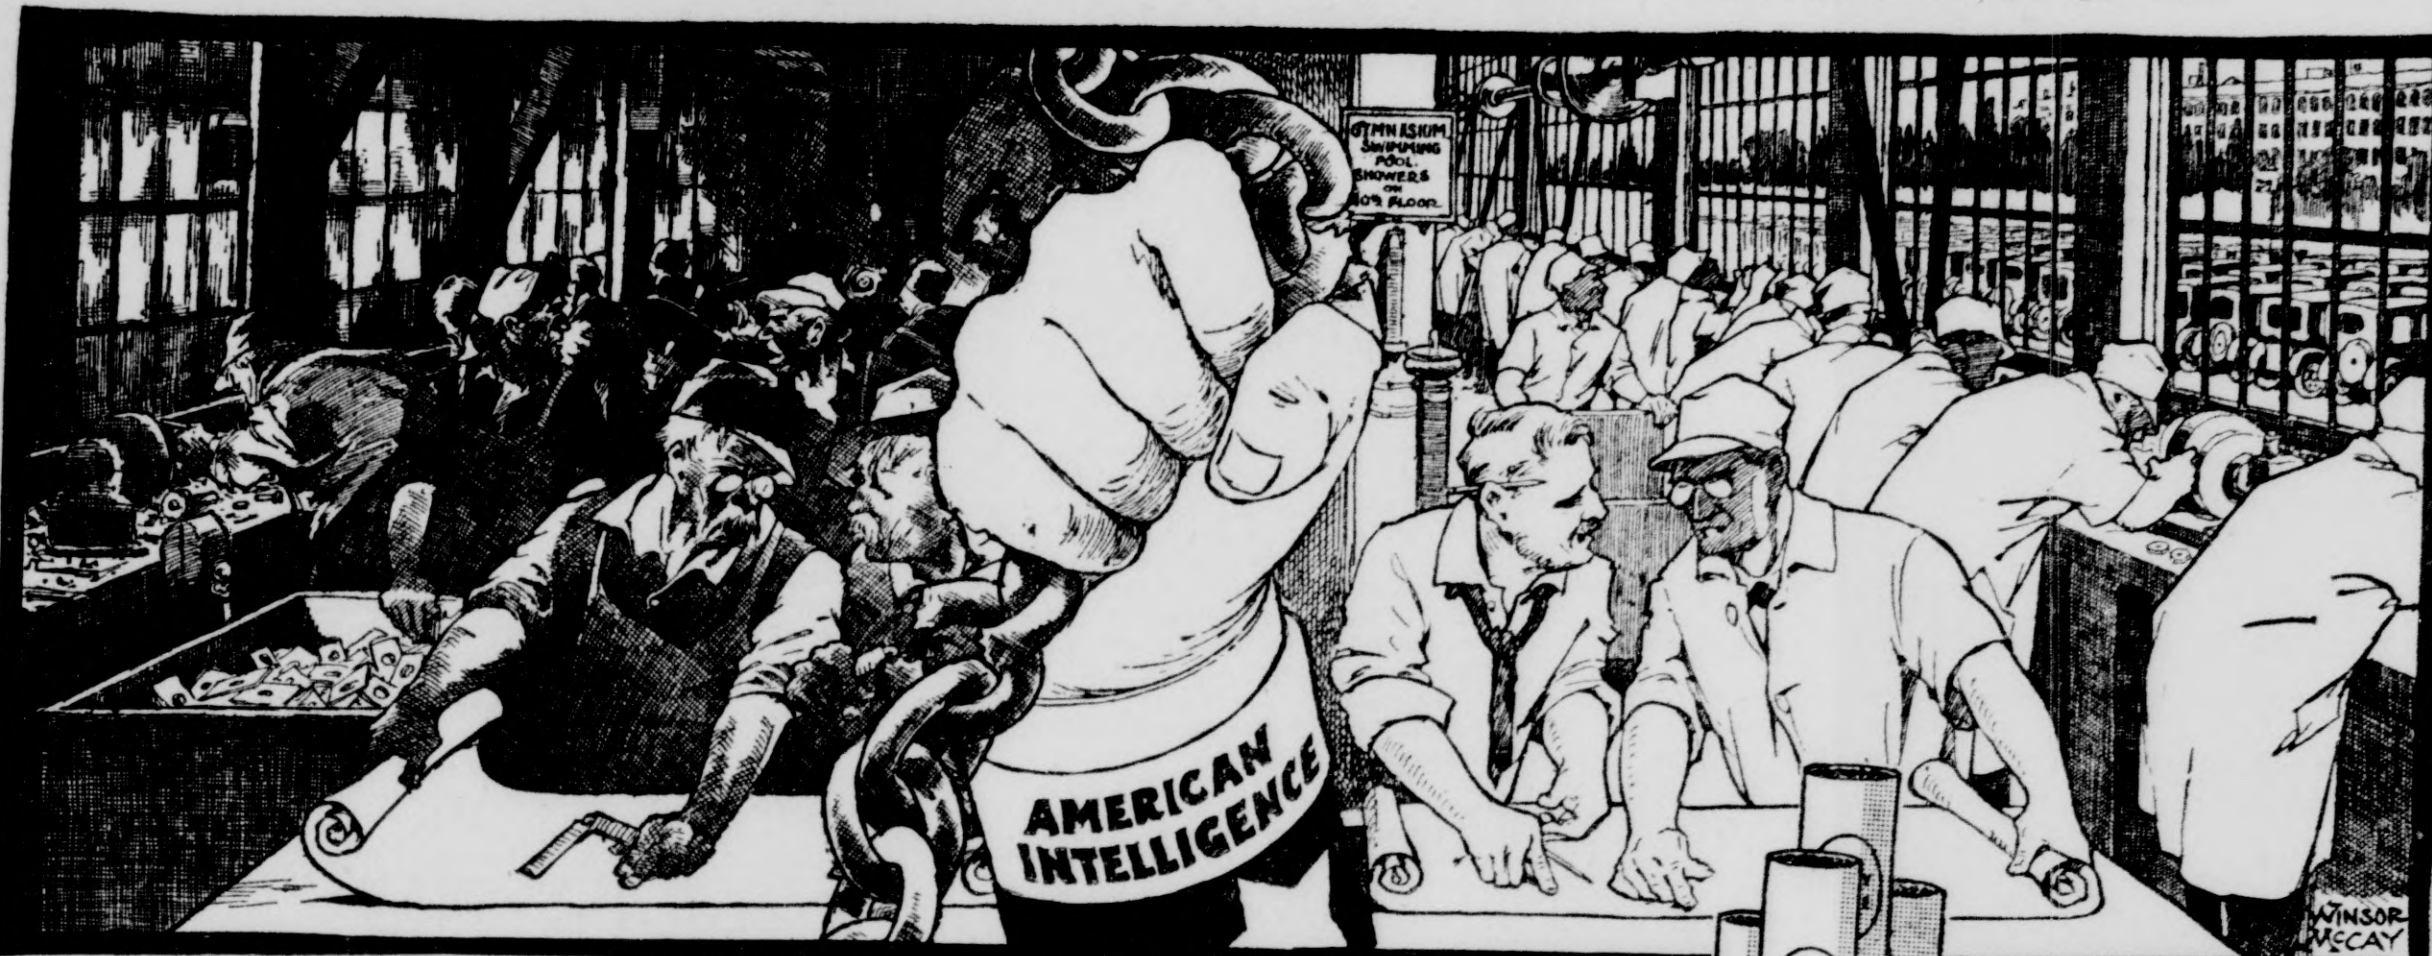

Such is the story, cautiously worded, from Bucharest. That will not make royalty more popular.

Russia will make much of the incident, which is worth more to Bolshevik propaganda than 10,000,000 rubles.

Why is a treaty, designed to preserve peace, any better for being ratified by the Senate? It ratified the others, didn't it?

No "Instruments of the Devil" Now! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

With the introduction of machinery man-power feared it was to be supplanted. By the force of AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE this ancient prejudice disappeared. Our modern "machine age" brings happiness and prosperity.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

Dame Fashion Demands Long Skirts; Women Obey?

Fashion travels in cycles and with the return of the long skirt, we are now back where we started, in 3000 B. C.

Flappers are flapping rather awkwardly in these new evening gowns. Some of those with particularly attractive knees are very sad indeed and almost defiant—but fashion put out this stern decree of long dresses and eventually all follow—that is, until the next turn of the cycle, when short skirts will come in again, shorter than ever, perhaps.

The short skirt seemed particularly adapted to the hurrying ways of America, and the American girls are the last to take up the new mode. The length of skirts will depend a great deal upon the time of day. Long skirts have not yet invaded the business world.

It is rather hard to lengthen the circular skirts of last year. So a new dress appears to be necessary. That will affect the men, making the new mode for them a thinner pocket-book.

Still, in making over an evening gown, we might cut off the back and add this to the skirt, since bare backs are the style. The skirts need not be even.

Tons Of Old Paper Money Destroyed

Over 180 Tons Of Old Bills Now Stored In Treasury Vaults
For Destruction

Many New Castle residents have probably wondered what becomes of the old paper money which is now being called in by the government as the new small-sized currency is issued to replace it.

According to advices from Washington, the old bills are being placed in strong boxes and stored at the Treasury department, where it will ultimately be destroyed. At present there are 180 tons of this money stored away awaiting destruction, and new consignments of the old bills arrive at the Treasury at the rate of between six and seven tons, daily.

By means of a vast maceator and incinerator at the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the Treasury is destroying the old worn out bills. Formerly, the old pulp taken from the maceator was bound in bundles and sold, but it is now being entirely destroyed as the Treasury has found the margin of profit is too small to bother with.

Since issuance of the new currency in July, old paper money has been arriving at the Treasury for destruction in increasing amounts.

Body Being Held For Identification

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 29.—The body of an unidentified man is being held at the Dale Walters funeral home in Mars, pending the outcome of an investigation which is being made by Coroner William F. Pohl of Butler.

The man, aged about 30, believed to be a hobo, was killed by a Baltimore & Ohio train late Saturday night. His clothing bore the name of A. Mazier of Sand Patch, near Altoona. Word received from Mazier Monday was to the effect that he had given a suit of clothes to a man about a month ago.

Trees Promise Wet Years For Arizona

PHOENIX, Oct. 29.—The trees tell Arizona that her drought troubles are over for a few years.

Rains of the past summer relieved acute conditions on the cattle ranges and the watersheds of several big irrigation projects and Dr. A. E. Douglass of the University of Arizona, creator of the science of tree ring weather records, announced that the state was to expect its wet cycle now.

Dr. Douglass found that trees grow thick rings in wet years and thin ones when it is dry. By studying tree rings for 400 years back, he found there was a fairly definite 11-year cycle of wet and dry periods.

Man, Aged 84, Gets Hunting License

L. L. Tidwell, 6 Feet, 6 Inches Tall, Will Also Hunt In Lawrence County

NEARLY 3,500 HAVE SECURED PERMITS

John G. Huff, aged 84, of New Wilmington, is the oldest person to secure a hunting license this year, according to County Treasurer Adda M. Smiley. Mr. Huff says that he is getting ready for the rabbit season. Despite his advanced years he is still quite active and can handle a gun with skill, being able to shoot rabbits on the wing.

The tallest hunter to secure a license this year was L. L. Tidwell of Youngstown, O. Mr. Tidwell took out a non-resident license. He is 6 feet 6 inches high and towered away above the wicket where the licenses are issued.

The total number of licenses issued for this year is 3,483. Owing to the near approach of the rabbit season the county treasurer's office is thronged with hunters. The season opens on November 1. The number that can be killed in a day is five, and the total number for the season by any one hunter, 20. The squirrel season also opens on November 1.

Last year the total number of licenses issued was 5,660, so that it is likely that there will still be a large number issued.

Completes Work On 14 Grade Crossings

HARRISBURG, Oct. 29.—Fourteen grade crossings on the state highway system have been eliminated during the present year and orders issued by the Public Service Commission call for elimination of 60 others, Emanuel Eckels, chief engineer, today announced. Most of the latter number will be carried into the 1930 season.

Other work ordered includes rebuilding and altering three overhead and underpass structures and the relocation of 10 existing grade crossings. Relocations are calculated to improve visibility and enable motorists to safeguard against accident.

The department has applications pending before the commission which, if approved, will eliminate additional crossings at grade.

Blames Drought In Typhoid Cases

HARRISBURG Oct. 29.—The recent drought is blamed for the typhoid fever prevalence now existing in some sections of the state according to information issued today by the state health department's bureau of vital statistics.

"From the available figures there have been more cases of typhoid fever reported so far this year than for the entire year of 1928," said Dr. J. Moore Campbell, chief of the bureau. "The cases were widely scattered and the investigation leads to the conclusion that in many instances it was due to the use of temporary and unsafe water supplies made necessary by the lack of existing approved supplies in the rural sections and some small towns. Fall rains have in many instances removed further danger."

Orphan Kitten Chooses Busy Bridge For A Nap

It was hungry, dirty and its eyes were sore. It was trying to sleep on the Washington street bridge.

Just another kitten—a very plain little alley cat. But decidedly it needed a home, and a saucer of milk. It curled up against the stonework in an effort to make itself comfortable. Passers-by shuffled up and down the sidewalk. Sometimes a pitying glance would be given the little animal. But what could be done?

Just another cat—no one wanted it. But it was a life. A life which, for hundreds of years, man has trained to be tame. Unlike wild animals, stray cats and dogs cannot care for themselves.

Many large cities in United States maintain an orphanage for dogs and cats. It is not a pound where the animals are kept for a month or so and if unclaimed are killed. It is a real orphanage. They are taken care of and are given away free of charge to all who will give them good home. This animal orphanage is not expensive to maintain. It rids the streets of stray animals.

The kitten on the bridge would appreciate life more if New Castle was among those cities having an "animal orphanage."

he will supply the Baptist church for the present. Rev. Woodrow has been preaching at Harmony for 2½ months. Harmony Sunday school had one hundred per cent attendance Sunday.

Stocks Selling At Lowest Price In Many Months

Third Wild Plunge Of Market
Within Week Sends Stocks Tobogganing Today

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Another wild plunge in the stock market, the third within a week, carried prices of the leading steel, copper, motor, oil, railroad and electrical manufacturing stocks in a headlong movement to the lowest prices on the move, with new losses of from 5 to 30 points.

As on the last two sessions, values of the best-known corporation stocks, dividend-payers for decades, melted like chaff before the wind as wave after wave of frenzied selling broke over the board. Prices were snapped at by agitated sellers today and bids at any price were not ignored.

United States Steel, which was expected to furnish the rallying ground for the bulls, fell away with hardly a show of resistance to 170, down 16 points. Westinghouse plunged downward 45 points to 100, completing a loss of close to 200 points on the move.
General Electric lost 38 points in its persistent downward move to 212.
Bethlehem Steel at 80 showed a loss of 14 points. Chrysler Motor dropped off about 12 points to 28 1/2. Nash 20 points to 40; International Tel 23 points; Aichison Railroad 21 points to 230 and a score of the best known industrial and utility shares fell off 5 to 20 points. Standard Oil of New Jersey fell 15 points to 50; Union
Carbide 24 points and Anaconda Copper 14 1/2 points to 79.

ebrations on the South Side Wednesday evening and for the general Halloween celebration on Thursday evening. He asks that all comply with these regulations and enable the police to regulate the celebrations in such a manner as to make them enjoyable for all concerned.

It is requested that on Wednesday evening, that all motorists refrain from parking on Long avenue from Pollock avenue to Moravia street, on Moravia street from Long avenue to from 7 p. m. until after the parade.

The parade is to move promptly at eight o'clock.

On Thursday evening at the general celebration, the motorists are asked to refrain from parking on Washington street from the East Side station of the Pennsylvania railroad to Jefferson street and on Jefferson street to Falls street from 7 p. m.
until after the parade.

Ropes will be placed along the curb as far as possible and the spectators are to remain behind the ropes.
Such extra police as are needed from other turns will be used in each instance. Each parade will be headed by two motorcycle officers.

A. H. Bartlett will serve as general during the first two weeks of May,

ient for the governor.

George Smith, member of the Lions club, was today speaker. Recently he was honored by having the Distinguished Service Cross conferred upon him. Smith's address was a humorous one. In the course of his remarks, he said there were 13 cars in the train that carried him to camp;
there were 13 ships in the convoy that he went abroad in; he was 13 days at sea; 13 weeks intervened during

Its age is a private matter

It is very difficult to discover, by its appearance, how old a Lincoln is. Lincoln believes in making automobiles so beautiful that they are always modern — so durable that they simply won't wear out.
The age of a Lincoln is no one's concern—least of all its owner's.
On the boulevard a Lincoln of last season and the newest model share honors equally with Lincolns years older than either.

So fine is this car that a year or so of use does not perceptibly detract from any of its splendid qualities. Lincoln owners are often men who can, and do, provide the best professional care for their cars. Sometimes such well kept cars are available at very attractive prices from Lincoln dealers. The wisdom of investing in such a motor car is quite evident, and shrewd buyers are quick to take advantage of the opportunity.

A few such Lincolns are now to be seen on our floor. Every one is in perfect mechanical condition.
We are always glad to demonstrate them to you, without the slightest obligation. Drop in today.

Bo-Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Wils Bengt, who has worn out 23 dress suits enacting the role of stage butler, is donning his 24th to enact his specialty in "This Thing Called Love," a new Pathe noisy.

As "Jarvis," "Meadows" and "Perkins," Wils has appeared in scores of plays and there's no way of estimating how many million feet of film he has trodden through.

IN THE OZARKS

Charlie Finger, who came to New York a few days ago to get the Longmans, Green award for writing "Courageous Companions," says that not all censorship is located in New York City—his part of the world. The Ozarks, also suffers from density of a kind.

"A little school teacher in my neck of the woods was doing a good job," he said, "until one day I noticed that she had disappeared. I inquired of one of the school trustees and learned that she had been removed for having some bad books in her possession."

"What were they?" I asked. He became very earnest and requested me to follow him to his house, which I did. He went to his bed and lifted up the mattress. "Here they are," he said, and I beheld some copies of the National Geographic magazine, containing articles, with pictures, about the South Sea Islanders."

UNIMPORTANT BIOGRAPHIES
Rouben Mamoulian, who staged the Theatre Guild's production of "Porgy," "Marco Millions," "Wings Over Europe" and recently, Helen Morgan's noisy "Applesauce," came to the land of the more-or-less-free and the home of the undoubtedly-brave at the age of 23. Today he is 30 and to make it more complicated, his middle name is Zachary.

Not that it makes any particular difference, but Zachary has 17 suits, all blue serge. He never had a hat that fit him. The pipe he has smoked for 17 years is cursed with a defective flue and he hates cheese and telephones.

IF LADY LUCK HADN'T INTERVENED

Mary Pickford wouldn't have bumped into D. W. Griffith that day as he was coming out of the old Biograph studios on 14th street. Richard Barthelmess would have gone on that sea cruise several days before Nazimova asked him to do a bit in "War Brides." Mack Sennett wouldn't have dropped into a vaudeville theater where a young man named Charlie Chaplin was getting $40 a week playing a "drunk" in a skit called "A Night in a London Music Hall."

Colleen Moore and her uncle, a newspaper editor, wouldn't have run head-on into Griffith in the elevator of an office building. Billie Dove might still be posing for magazine covers. Dot Mackaill might be known today merely as an ex-Follies girl. Alice Joyce might have slid into the discard along with illustrated song slides for which she was posing. A cameraman told his director he knew "just the girl" for a role they were having difficulty in filling.

Jack Mulhall in all likelihood would still be playing stock. He encountered Rex Ingram one summer afternoon on Broadway. Rex asked him why he didn't try pictures. He did—and how!... Irene Rich might still be playing such roles as "Minnie," a maid. A publicity man, assigned to do a yarn on an "extra," picked on Irene. A month later she was leading lady for Dustin Farnum.

For as John Joseph McGraw once put it: "The team that gets the breaks will win the series."

PLEASE, MR. COP, WHY?

Of the 17,000 cops in this burg of racketeers, sugar daddies, bologna magnates, gunmen, fiddlers and chorus boys, there is one bluecoat who stands out like a Ku Kluxer in a Kosher Kitchen. He has a set of whiskers longer, blacker and a thousand times more subtle than the Right Smith Brother. Everybody wants to know why the scenery; but there's a look in the Bewhiskered One's eye that somehow discourages any attempt at query.

Yale Men Heads Of Sixty Institutions

(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Oct. 29.—Sixty-odd higher institutions of learning in the United States have had Yale men for presidents, and Yale men were presidents at the start of Princeton, Columbia, Dartmouth, Williams, Cornell and the Universities of Georgia, Missouri, Mississippi, Wisconsin, California, and Chicago, and Johns Hopkins, beside Hamilton, Kenyon, Wabash, Beloit, Tulane, and Illinois colleges. And a Yale man founded Ohio University, first to be established with a land endowment from the National government.

Such is the explanation here of the title "Mother of American Colleges," which has been given the university.

Ileana May Become Bulgarian Queen

(International News Service)
BUCHAREST, Oct. 29.—The Bulgarians will have a little "sporting queen," unlike any other who sits on a European throne, if their good King Boris marries Princess Ileana of Rumania, as the rumors go.

Two years ago she was the fastest short distance girl runner in the capital. She is an ardent devotee of riding, fencing, mountain climbing and skating. She drives her own automobile and she is the first woman in her land to hold a mariner's certificate. Her greatest hobby is taking motion-pictures, of which she had made many during her wide travels.

TWO TOTS FALL INTO 30-FOOT WELL AND ONE IS DROWNED

BERWICK, Pa., Oct. 29.—A two-year-old child drowned and her four-year-old companion was saved Monday when the grandfather of one of the children responded to faint cries coming from the bottom of a 30-foot well into which the two girls had fallen.

Frances Melnick of Berwick, lost her life, and Mary Martz, of Taylor, was saved by her grandfather, Alex Martz, who was plowing, had gone near an abandoned well to chase away several chickens when he heard the cries and was horrified to see the two children at the bottom of the shaft.

He obtained a long pole, fashioned a wire hook at the end and then climbed down to a narrow ledge six feet below the level of the ground. From there he was able to fish the children out. His grandfather was barely alive and physicians were able to restore her to consciousness only after an hour's work.

The Melnick girl was dead when brought to the surface.

GLOWING HEALTH BROUGHT QUICKLY BY NEW KONJOLA

This Master Medicine Triumphs Where Other Remedies And Treatments Fail.

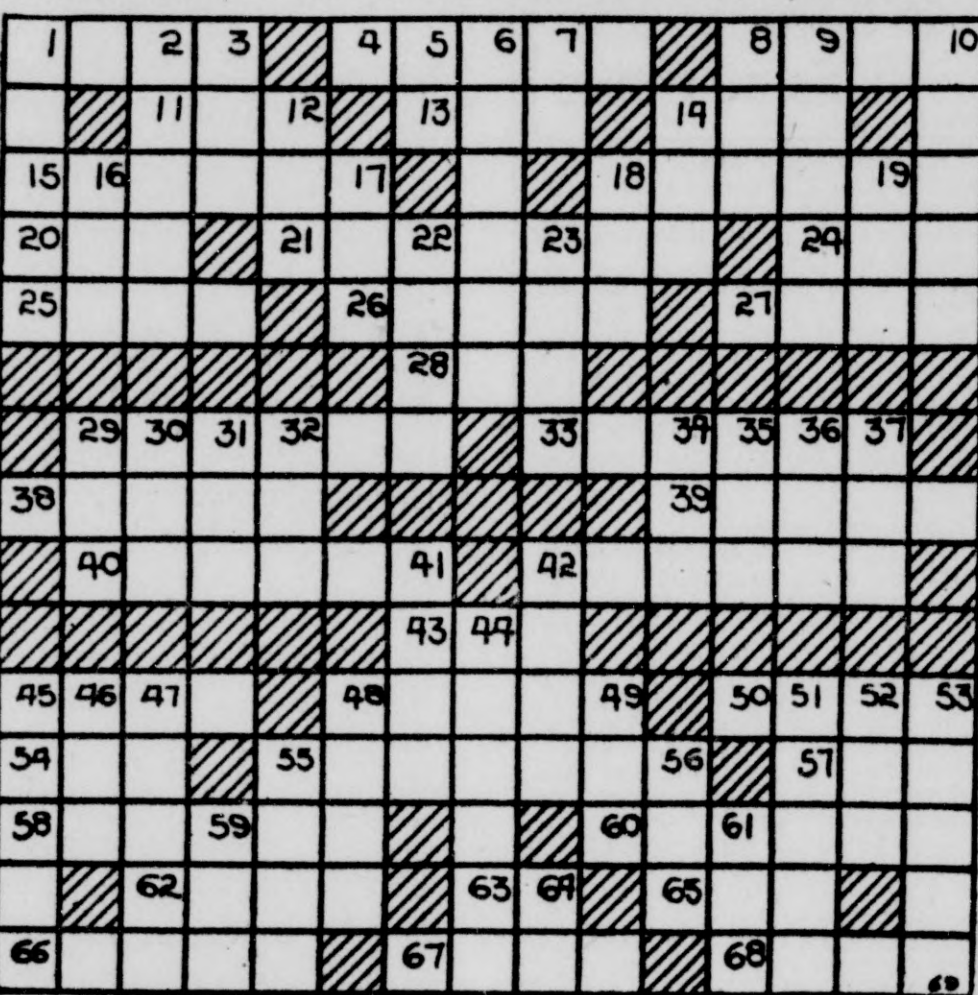

MRS. SUSIE DONEVILLE

"Rheumatism had made life a painful burden for me for 25 years, said Mrs. Susie Doneville, 2610 West Girard avenue, Philadelphia, Penna. "Doubtless this was the result of kidney disorder, for my kidneys were badly affected. I suffered terrible pains day and night. I tried nearly every remedy for my affliction, seeking in vain for something to give me more than just temporary relief."

Then I read about Konjola—how it conquered where other medicines failed—so I decided to give it a trial. To my amazement and delight I found that the first bottle helped me. As the weeks passed I became better and better, and when I had finished the sixth bottle every pain had vanished and my kidneys were normal in every way. No wonder Konjola is called the master medicine."

Konjola is sold in New Castle at Love & McGowan drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

BUTTERFLY WINS.

At last 'twas gay Sir Butterfly's turn to take part in the council meeting. The chairman with the bluebell called upon him.

"And now, Sir Butterfly, since you are with us today we will ask you to do your share."

"I believe that every one of you here knows about as much about me in my butterfly state as I do myself," laughed the jolly scalewing, "but you may not have heard or seen quite as much about my caterpillar. I will withdraw in favor of him. As he is just about to begin his spinning he may as well start now. He came prepared."

All the moths and Peter looked earnestly at the caterpillar, motioned turned and seemed to be looking for something. At last he found it and hastening off climbed upon a wild carrot plant. Crawling up the stem, he hung there and began to speak.

"I am a hungry chap. All my caterpillar life I like to eat and I prefer carrots to anything else. When I have stuffed until my skin is too tight for me I shed it and get another one and this morning I measured myself and found that I was an inch and a half long and then I knew that the hour had come for me to make myself into a pupa. So if you will watch me closely you will see how I do it. Good-bye everybody. You will never see me again until I am a beautiful Swallowtail like gay Sir Butterfly."

With the last words, Caterpillar started to spin a silken cord and with this rope he bound his body tightly to the stem of the wild carrot plant.

"Since you are all so interested," said Sir Butterfly, "I will tell you what will happen before he comes out. His long body will shorten and become real thick and his caterpillar skin will burst and drop off and the silk in which he has wound himself will harden and protect him. Since it is so warm now in about two weeks this skin will crack because he will be so hard and struggle so long to come into the sunlight. Then, wet and weak a butterfly exactly like myself will pull itself out of the case. And after it has drunk in the fresh air a few times its body will grow dry and its legs firm and it will soar off into the heavens and although it may never be as wise as some of its days."

"That is something we may all envy," said General Hawk-moth and all his relatives agreed with him in declaring that Butterfly's tale was the most interesting of all. The chairman was about to bring the meeting to a close when he was interrupted by a cry from Peter who had caught sight of an object in the grass.

"Look!" he cried. "Isn't someone coming to join us?"

Next: "Flies of the Night."

Some Simple Health Rules For Children's Protection

"The attention of health officials at the present season is properly directed toward the school child. Throughout Pennsylvania medical school inspection is now being carried on. Deficiencies are thus being discovered and the correctable conditions remedied," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, State Secretary of Health, today.

"Yet in spite of this great work, it must be plain to everyone that hundreds of thousands of little children who have not as yet attained school age are just as vitally in need of attention as are those who are now in school. And this real need can only be supplied through the positive interest of parents.

"It is quite true that well baby clinics exist in many localities throughout the Commonwealth. But it is also a fact that their existence does not force parents to avail themselves of their advantages. It is also equally certain that many places in the state are quite remote from such centers and consequently are inaccessible to many of the younger citizens.

"As a matter of fact, the years from two to six are among the most important for effective health work in a child's life. During this time a rich opportunity exists to establish a firm foundation for physical and mental health. Parents can do a tremendous piece of constructive and preventive health work for children in this age group by carrying out a few simple rules. Here they are:

"1. Vaccination against smallpox. Do not wait until the child is of school age to afford him this protection. While undoubtedly you will be forced to have it done then in order that admission to school may be gained, the protection is just as important in the earlier years.

"2. Protect against diphtheria. This means toxin-antitoxin—a harmless and effective immunization.

"3. A general physical examination by a competent physician once a year.

"4. A check-up on the eyes at the fourth year period unless they are apparent of this need earlier than this.

"There is nothing burdensome in these rules. Yet a strict adherence to them may do much for the future health, happiness and welfare of the child than anything else in later years. Which should be sufficient excuse for all parents vitally to interest themselves in the pre-school child's health. Give it a good and healthy start in life as soon as possible. It will need all the start that it can get."

Find More Liquor At Country Club

Prescription Liquor Seized At Sharon Country Club In Second Raid

MERCER, Pa., Oct. 29.—Two pints of prescription liquor were found by the raiding officers at the Sharon Country Club when they searched the lockers of the members on Saturday.

The liquor is the property of Sharon men of prominence, it is reported by the district attorney, who is holding the matter in abeyance for the present.

Under the Snyder act it is a question for the jury whether prescription liquor is an illegal possession. Under the federal statutes its possession would be legalized.

In connection with the raiding of the club Saturday it was learned today at the office of the official that there is no especial significance attached to the raid of the club Saturday. It is the custom of the office to always raid a second time after liquor has been found on the premises.

The liquor was found in the lockers of the men, the officers report.

MANY HUNTERS LICENSED
The record day for the sale of hunters' licenses is reported by Treasurer G. R. McQuiston as Saturday, when 720 were written. Of this total 557 were written by the treasurer at the Robert Haverly Company in Sharon. To date 4,400 licenses have been written in the county for 1929.

JAILED FOR THEFT
For the theft of one chicken Steve Hardestey of Sharon drew 60 days in jail. He has a wife and five children who need his support. He had been released as asked that he may return to Sharon, where he has a job waiting for him. The theft and arrest occurred on September 18th.

WINS POTATO HONORS
Frank A. Woods of the Mercer community was adjudged winner at the county potato show on October 25th. It was announced today by Farm Agent W. S. Hagar.

There were 30 exhibits of county grown "spuds" at the show. Half of the number are being packed today by Hagar for shipment to Pittsburgh at once, where they are to be entered in the tri-state show to be held in that city sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce members interested in the sale of vegetables and fruits.

W. G. McDougall of Grove City ranked second in the county show. B. Tait of Mercer was third. Harry Small of Clarks Mills was fourth. Lee Mohney of Mercer was fifth and Mercer County Home was sixth.

AUTO THIEVES ACTIVE

Two valuable Ford cars have been stolen in Mercer within the last three days. The first to disappear was that of Alfred McGarr, well-known salesman of the Osborne Company, who reports his Ford taken from its parking place near the Diamond Cafe Thursday evening. Mr. McGarr was out of the city at the time. The Ford of Frank Woods, driven by a son of the family, was taken Saturday evening from its parked location on the Diamond. As yet no report on the cars has been turned in by the officers working on the case.

It is thought that the cars were taken by a gang of professional thieves. Police are of the opinion that they were driven into Ohio and will be repainted and sold.

WARN COON HUNTERS

County coon hunters are notified by Game Warden Frank Fair that it is the intention of his office to strictly enforce the new provision of the game laws enacted by the Pennsylvania legislature at their 1929 session.

The provision deals with the shoot-

The New Series PACKARD STANDARD EIGHT

It costs no more to own one

TWO out of three motorists who buy Packard Standard Eights give up other makes of cars to do so.

They have found that the luxury of Packard transportation costs no more than ordinary motoring in twelve to fifteen hundred dollar cars.

Operation and maintenance expense for a luxurious Packard Standard Eight is no greater than for many cars down to half its price. The higher first cost is completely offset by the fact that Packard cars are built for long life.

They can be, and usually are—according to our ownership records—driven nearly twice as long as the lower priced cars traded in on new Packards.

Net depreciation, therefore, is no greater. And the Packard owner enjoys keeping his car far longer than any other make he has ever owned.

Simple arithmetic proves that though the Packard Standard Eight may be priced even at twice as much, final cost is no greater if it is driven twice as long.

In accordance with Packard's long established policy, the fundamental grace and beauty of Packard lines have been retained in the new Standard Eights. Packard does not depreciate cars in the hands of owners by frequent and radical changes in appearance. You are not tempted to turn in a Packard every year or so.

More Advanced and More Beautiful

But the new models are so outstandingly more advanced, more beautiful and more luxurious that they outvalue all cars in the truly fine car field at anywhere near their price. Why not graduate from ordinary motoring to the distinction and luxury of Packard transportation—as so many others are doing?

When you come in to inspect the new Standard Eights you will see that nothing which can make for the comfort, convenience and enjoyment of owners has been omitted. Like the Packard Custom and De Luxe Eights, all models embody the improved-vision body pillars; adjustable sun visors; newly perfected shatter-proof glass; dashboard lockers; adjustable steering gear and driver's seat—and the improved powerplant with its four-speed transmission and still further refined straight-eight motor. All these in addition to enriched fittings, appointments and upholstery.

If you are turning in a lower priced car every 18 months or so you are really paying for a Packard Standard Eight. Why not own one? Your present car will be accepted as cash, and you may buy out of income if you prefer.

ing of coon by squirrel hunters. It has been customary for years, says Fair, for hunters to shoot coon if one of the wary animals should be seen out on a limb during daytime. This year coon may be hunted only between sunset and sunrise, and any shot during the day will result in arrest of the sportsman.

Fair reports the arrival in the county of 15 coon that he expects to release following the close of the game season. The coon season opens this year on November 1st instead of October 15th.

ROAD WORK HAMPERED
The Bird Construction Company, who have the contract for the building of 10 miles of the Perry highway north from here, have encountered more than ordinary difficulties since starting to work in September.

The last accident of a serious nature was that of this week when the new roadway already graded for concrete, located at the Greenville Run bridge, was washed out during a heavy rainfall.

The road will have to be rebuilt with larger sized tile to drain it. The concrete mixer of the company has arrived and is being installed for action. It will mix and pour concrete enough to lay 1,000 feet a day.

The company expects to finish two miles of the road this fall.

AWARD DAMAGE CLAIMS
Damages have been awarded East Lackawannock township residents for damages to their property by the rebuilding of the Sharon-Mercer road of 1928.

The act of eminent domain was invoked to take land of James Wright on which is located the oldest coal bank in Mercer county, over a century in age. The viewers in report filed give Wright, who is the third of his family to own the farm, the sum of $1,000 damage.

W. F. Michael is given $500 damage. P. S. Cozadd in Jefferson township, injured by construction of the same route, is given $500.

VIEWERS GIVE REPORT
Viewers filed reports today refusing the petition of road supervisors of New Wilmington and Lackawannock township in which the vacating of roads is asked. The members of the board of viewers hold that the routes are a necessity to public travel.

COURT TERM OPENS
The October criminal court trial list opened today with 67 cases listed by Clerk of Courts Mrs. Belle Emery for disposal at the term.

Judges J. A. McLaughry and James Chambers will hear cases in which the commonwealth will be represented by District Attorney Leo McKay and County Solicitor T. A. Sampson, chosen for the term. Three-fourths of the number are liquor violations. A number of pleas are expected. Thirteen are set for Monday, 16 for Tuesday and Wednesday, 10 for Thursday, eight for Friday and four Saturday.

APPEALS SENTENCE
John Monaco of Farrell, sentenced here Monday to eight months in the workhouse, filed bond today in the sum of $3,000 for an appeal which his attorneys are taking to the superior court in an effort to get him another trial, which Judge J. A. McLaughry refused following his conviction at the October term of 1928. Police claim that he operated a speakeasy in the Stanton Inn.

BOND IS FILED

Bond was filed here today in the sum of $500 as protection to James Hunter of Pine township by the Pennsylvania Power Company, who are erecting a pole line past the Hunter farm. The right of eminent domain permits the placing of their poles. The bond protects Hunter from accrued damage. The court granted the right to file bond.

Opening Market Prices Are Lower

Some Upward Trend Is Shown During First Hour

HEAVY TRADING FEATURES DAY

By JAMES L. KILGALLIN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Despite the optimistic statements of prominent Wall street financiers regarding the stock market, prices opened sharply lower today. Thirty thousand shares of Radio opened at 30, a drop of 10 1/4 points from last night's close. Ten thousand shares of American and Foreign Power opened at 63, down 9 1/2 points.

Other shares were down and initial transactions were heavy in volume. In less than 10 minutes, however, the market rebounded sharply on vigorous support.

United States Steel, which had opened at 135 3/4 on a sale of 10,000 shares, came back to 136.

Other issues began to rebound, Radio went back to 37.

Chrysler, which opened at 33 on a sale of 50,000 shares, recovered to 35. Trading was fast and furious. The ticker began running behind in recording sales on the floor.

There was no hysteria, however. Brokers appeared to be concentrated and alert, but not excited.

Atlantic Refining, which opened at 31 on a 25,000-share sale, went up to 36.

Huge blocks of stock had been dumped on the market at the opening. The first transactions of the day were along this line: 10,000 shares of Canadian Pacific at 200, off 3; 15,000 shares of Pan American B at 55, off 3; 8,500 shares of General Electric at 245, off 5; 20,000 shares of Montgomery Ward at 52, off 1 1/2; 25,000 shares of Union Carbide at 70 1/4, off 13 3/4; 45,000 shares of Sinclair at 14 1/4, off 2; 20,000 shares of Standard Oil of New Jersey at 57, off 7 3/4; 25,000 shares of Westinghouse Electric at 120 1/2, off 14 1/2; 45,000 shares of Anaconda Copper at 82, off 11 1/2; 20,000 shares of Erie at 50, off 5; 50,000 shares of United Corporation at 26, off 7 1/2; 15,000 shares of United Corporation at 25, off 7 1/2; 15,000 shares of American T. and T. at 25, off 7; and 10,000 shares of American Can at 130, off 6 points.

At 10:20, 20 minutes after the opening gong, a pronounced rally was in progress and prices were recovering all along the line from the opening declines.

U. S. Steel, which had touched 135 3/4 at the outset, was big at 192 at this juncture.

In the first 20 minutes more than 1,000,000 shares had been traded in this ratio even Thursday's record 1,804,000 share session would be surpassed. It was not regarded as likely, however, that trading could continue at this terrific clip.

At 10:30 U. S. Steel was at 187. The market had begun to slip, almost as quickly as it had rallied.

In the streets in the vicinity of the stock exchange, groups of small investors walked about aimlessly. Many of them were sad, drawn faces.

The trading on the floor of the exchange was an unrelenting picture. As the trading became more furious there was a sharp pick-up in excitement. Brokers milled around the trading posts, waving small slips of paper and gesticulating as they bought and sold at the fastest clip in the history of the exchange.

Sales for the first half hour aggregated 3,259,800 shares—a record for all time. If this rate were maintained the total for the day would reach the astounding total of 32,000,000.

Announcement of the first casualty as a result of the stupendous and declining markets came at 11 a. m., when the curb market made public the fact that John J. Bell and Company had been suspended for "failure to meet its engagements."

At the end of the first hour of trading the market was still easier. Stocks were then selling in this manner: General Motors 44 1/2, down 3 3/8; Anaconda Copper 85, down 15; American Smelting 84, down 6; Johns Manville 127, down 5; Bethlehem Steel 88 3/4, down 6; American Tel

Expresses Grief Over Death Of Dr. J. R. Straton

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—"In his field he was a truly great man possessed of unusual courage and intellectual honesty" Rev. Dr. J. Foster Wilcox, moderator of the Philadelphia Baptist association told International News Service today in expressing his grief and that of the 100 Baptist churches with their 35,000 members under him over the death of Dr. John Roach, noted fundamentalist leader.

"As a church leader the value of his work is evinced by the great building under construction in New York city and his influence throughout the country. All church groups mourn his passing."

Senior Girl Reserves Give Their Annual Halloween Party
At Camp East Brook

Laughter amidst a riot of rustic Halloween colors could be heard sounding through Camp East Brook Monday evening.

Eighty-five Senior High School Girl Reserves were present at the annual Halloween party. In charge of the dining room decorated with corn stalks, pumpkins, skeletons and witches the large group of masqueraders enjoyed an evening of dancing eating and getting their futures forecast.

Everything went along fine—even better than that. A red hot orchestra was led by Miss Julia Sidley, a member of the club. The orchestra players were also members of the club. With such an orchestra, witches, goblins, clowns, gypsies in fact all of the guests just couldn't help dancing. Pumpkin pie with whipped cream, pop corn balls, doughnuts, candy and cider were all devoured in due time.

PATROL MATADOR TELLS IN DETAIL OF SLAYING BULL

HARRISBURG, Oct. 29.—All that was needed by Highway Patrolman C. H. Blocker to complete a recent impersonation of a Spanish matador was a red cape and a bright, shiny sword. The patrolman's red motorcycle enraged an already peevish bull, and the result was an encounter unusual even in the life of a State Highway Patrolman. His report of the incident in detail is as follows:

"Having been ordered by the Commanding Officer to proceed on regular patrol of U. S. Route No. 19, south, for the purpose of regulating traffic and enforcing the provisions of the motor vehicle code:

"Proceeded as ordered in uniform via McKean, and upon my arrival at a point two miles south of McKean, Pa., near a small slaughter house, I noticed a group of men near the highway, who seemed to be very excited and frightened. Upon investigation I learned that a large bull had broken away from its caretakers when they attempted to take him off a truck, which was parked at this point. Several attempts had been made to capture this bull, without avail, due to the animal being very enraged, and ferociously charging the would-be captors. My arrival on the scene at this time seemed to cause this roaring brute even more undue anxiety, as he started to snort and roar very loudly and then madly charged towards the point where the crowd of us were standing. Each of us took to our heels, as it was a case of every man for himself, and found refuge wherever possible. I, along with the owner of this bull, managed to climb into the truck which had been used to transport this domineering creature to this point. Charles Alexander, R. D. 4, McKean, the owner of the bull, fearing that someone would get hurt before a capture was made, requested me to shoot this animal. After several futile attempts to unload us from the truck, the bull turned and ran towards the slaughter house, I immediately left the truck and by careful maneuvering, managed to get on the opposite side of the slaughter house and then by attracting the bull's attention, succeeded in getting him to come near to me. I waited until I had a perfect shot, and then fired, striking the bull in the head and killing him. The carcass was then prepared for market by the owner.

"After completing this duty, I continued on regular patrol. Traffic light and in good order. Weather clear and fair."

Florida Jury Is Unable To Agree; Stand Dismissed

Jury Deliberating Fate Of Sidney J. Catts, Former Governor, Deadlocked

(International News Service)
TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 29.—A mistrial was declared today in the trial of Sidney J. Catts, Florida's war-time governor, for the alleged financing of a Florida counterfeit ring.

The mistrial came after the jury in the case, which had been deliberating the fate of the former chief executive for 24 hours, reported to the court that it was hopelessly deadlocked. A new trial date was set for the February term of federal court here.

Bake Oven Burns In Seventh Ward

Firemen from the Seventh ward department were called to the home of Ralph Bronzile of 214 Bolt street at 10:30 last evening where red hot coals dropping from the bottom of the bake oven set fire to some wood beneath, which in turn communicated with the frame work surrounding the oven and also spread to a shed nearby.

The firemen quickly extinguished the blaze but not before damage to the extent of $50 had been done.

Express Car Fire On B. & O. Railroad Causes Big Loss

(International News Service)
CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 29.—Loss estimated at between $65,000 and $75,000 followed the burning of an express car on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad which was carrying a consignment of merchandise for Pittsburgh merchants.

The express, running from New York to Pittsburgh, halted under a hydrant at Indian Creek near here, but too late to save the shipment. How the fire started was unknown. One theory held is that the merchandise was inflammable material not declared by the consignee.

Pittsburgh Stocks Weak At Opening

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29.—Stocks on the Pittsburgh exchange were decidedly weak this morning at the opening, further reflecting the terrific turnover on the big board in New York.

Lone Star Gas was down 3 1/4 from last night's close at 37 1/2, making a loss of ten points for the last two days. Blaw Knox slipped 3 1/2 to 39 1/2 while Western Public Service slumped 4 1/2 to 25. Plymouth Oil was steady at 25 while International Rustless Iron held firm at 4, unchanged from yesterday's close.

What About A Vacation For Mother?

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.
"Have a good vacation?"
"Wonderful! I hope you had."
Such is the exchange of greetings between men upon return from several weeks or months of rest and recreation.
What about these men's wives, the mothers of their children? Not much exchange of vacation ecstasies by them. More often their account is of a different sort than that of their husbands.
"We were afraid to take the baby away from home this summer. He is only two months old. We were not sure we could guarantee proper food for him. We decided that the safest plan for him was at home. So I remained here with my children all summer. But their father had a fine vacation and returned in excellent condition. I am so glad he was about frazzled."

"We did not go away for the summer but did spend many of our weekends out at the cottage by the lake where it is a fine place for the children. But there are a good many dangers there for them and I had to watch the baby constantly. Then the getting them ready on Saturday morning and assembling their clothes and the food for the family at the cottage was a pretty big task. When we came home late on Sunday evening I was pretty tired. Anyway it was a change and it means so much to George. He seems to like the summer here. Of course he plays golf two afternoons each week."

And so the stories go. Not many mothers of little children really know what a real vacation is. If anybody in the world needs one, this kind of mother does. Every little outing she must pay for in extra work, in cleaning and dressing the children.

An occasional father will say to his wife in the evening: "Maggie, I'll put the baby to bed tonight and take care of the other children and I'll do the dishes. I've been away all day and you here with these little children. Go up to the party and have a good time. Maybe Mrs. Gee will go along with you." Some other fathers see to it that a responsible person is employed for an evening or two a week, so that he and the mother can go out together. Really a lot of us fathers have been awfully selfish and stupid toward the mother of our children. Let's improve.

Mother, please put this where Dad will see and read it. But don't tell him he should. If you do, more harm than good will follow.

Tomorrow: Homesick Children.

Local Pennsy Officials On Inspection Trip

Accompanying Executives On Inspection Of Central Region Track

Superintendent H. T. Frushour and Division Engineer C. W. Van Nort of the Erie and Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad are today accompanying a party of system officials on the annual central region track inspection of General Manager C. I. Leiper. The group aboard the special train was due to leave Altoona this morning, arriving at Columbus, O., tonight.

At the Deshler hotel in Columbus this evening railroad officials will award to prize-winning road supervisors the company's awards for such meritorious work, totalling $25,000. Names of the outstanding supervisors will be read in the presence of F. J. Fell, Jr., of Philadelphia, and E. W. Smith of Pittsburgh, both vice presidents of the Pennsylvania, and other high executives. The two are making the tour of inspection.

From Columbus the men will go to Carrothers tomorrow morning and from there over the main line into Pittsburgh.

Officials here announced this morning that no part of the local division is to be included in the general manager's tour.

Further announcement was made that Friday, November 1, has been chosen as the date for the general superintendent's annual track inspection of the Lake Grand division, of which the E. & A. is a unit. Two other divisions, the Akron and Cleveland, will be included.

Immediately following the local tour names of winning road supervisors will be announced. One supervisor out of the five on the E. & A. branch will be given recognition for the best improvement in his section of the division during the past year. The track foreman who accomplishes the most notable piece of work on his unit will also be given an award, with Superintendent Frushour making the presentations.

CAPITAL MOURNS BURTON'S DEATH

terms in both the House and Senate and then returning again to the House and then the Senate, a public funeral service will be held tomorrow in the Senate chamber. Mr. Burton was the married, and his friends believe the Capitol is the proper place for his funeral.

Following brief services at the home and the main service in the Senate the body will be taken to Cleveland, O., where it will lie in state in the First Congregational church during the morning and until the funeral in the afternoon. Burial probably will be in Lakeview Cemetery there.

Flags Half-Masted

It is probable the Senate may adjourn today its deliberations on the tariff bill in respect for the veteran Republican statesman. Meanwhile all flags on the government buildings were dropped half-mast.

Senator Burton had been in failing health for a year and a few months ago he realized the end was near. In fact his knowledge of his death was uppermost in his mind just before he lapsed unconscious early Monday—never to awaken again. His last visitor was Bishop William F. McDowell, of the Methodist Episcopal church. He was the bishop to preach the sermon at his funeral.

Plan State Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Saddened by the death of Senator Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, one of the most noted figures in congressional life, the Senate today decided to pay its highest mark of respect by the holding of state funeral services in the Senate chamber at 2:30 p. m. on Wednesday.

The action was taken with assent of relatives, by the adoption of a resolution offered by Senator Fess (R) of Ohio.

Immediately after the unanimous adoption of the resolution, the Senate adjourned until tomorrow.

President Hoover, members of the cabinet, members of the house, justices of the supreme court, the diplomatic corps and highest ranking officers of the army and navy will attend the Senate services.

A committee of 19 Senators was authorized to take charge of the state funeral services and accompany the body to Cleveland, Ohio, for burial.

Shot In Mouth, Man Swallows Bullet

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—A gunman stepped up to Ben Friedman, 42, and shot him in the mouth. Friedman gulped, spat out three teeth, and started in pursuit.

He might have caught the gunman if a puzzling question had not popped into his mind. "Wonder what became of the bullet?"

Physicians at the Iroquois hospital answered the question a little later. "You swallowed it," they said. "After knocking out the teeth, it passed harmlessly down your throat."

Latrobe Man Given 212 Day Sentence

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Oct. 29.—Because he does not have $212 with which to pay a fine of that amount for violation of the game laws, Angelo Poligena, 54, of Latrobe, is under sentence to go to jail—one dollar for each day.

Poligena, an uneducated citizen, was charged with hunting and killing game by unlawful methods, out of season.

File Suit For Damages As Result Of Auto Accident
Carl C. Gaston Defendant In Suit Brought On Behalf Of Miriam Morgan

Miriam Alice Morgan, aged 5, by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Morgan, and the latter in their own right, have filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Carl C. Gaston and Elizabeth Gaston, for damages as a result of injuries sustained by Miriam Morgan in an auto accident on West Washington street.

It is claimed that Miriam was going from the north to the south side of the street, near Smithfield, with Dorothy Davis, when she was struck by the automobile of Gaston. She was knocked down, rendered unconscious and had one arm badly injured.

She was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, and her expenses amounted to $568 for doctor's services, nurses and other items. In addition to this $500 damages are claimed.

It is claimed that one arm of the child has been permanently injured, being shorter than the other.

Others stay at the Y. W. C. A. building. It is expected that a larger group of students will come for the next nine week period than the group which is here now.

Antonio Ilisco of 6½ West Home street, reported that he was enroute south on North Jefferson street last at Grant street Monday when a machine bearing Pennsylvania license R. 28-904 going east on Grant street attempted to cross Jefferson street. Mr. Ilisco attempted to avoid this machine and in doing so caused his machine to go over on its side. The other machine did not stop. Carmen Pezzone who was in the Ilisco car sustained an injury of the right shoulder and temple.

A Reliable Loan Service For New Castle and Nearby Towns

IT'S YOUR CITY!

New Castle is your city. You own it just as you own your home, and like your home you are responsible for its welfare, for its support, for its maintenance. The success of your home and your city are dependent one upon the other. Each is your responsibility.

When you bought your home you probably paid for it a little at a time. When you put an addition on it, or when you remodel it, you do not pay for it at once, but borrow the money and spread the burden out over a period of years.

So it is with your city. Large improvements require a sum of money sometimes too large for the current taxes to warrant, but spread out over a period of years the burden on us all is light.

On November 5th you will be asked to decide whether or not this city will spend $1,250,000.00 for improvements that are needed. The total is divided into five different bond issues.

NUMBER ONE

New Castle has ten plots of ground, varying in size, that are now called parks, but are little more than vacant land. Do you want breathing spots for the people, places where youngsters can play in safety, park spots where working men and their families can enjoy themselves without cost?

A bond issue of $100,000.00 is asked for to improve these park spots where they can be of some use to the people. This bond issue will provide for that.

NUMBER TWO

Residents all over the city are complaining of sewage backing up into their cellars, a nasty condition that imperils the health of the community. The present sanitary sewer system was built 35 years ago and has long since been inadequate. A larger sanitary sewer system is imperative.

A bond issue of $450,000.00 is asked for, to provide a trunk line sewer in the Croton Avenue and East Side district, one on the West Side, a Neshannock trunk sewer and repairs to the Snake's Rest ravine sewer.

NUMBER THREE

New Castle has practically no storm sewer system. Some few have been built and some water courses enclosed, but the bulk of the storm water floods the streets and courses over private property.

Fuller and McClintock, nationally known engineers, have prepared a sewer system plan that will care for the storm and surface water for many years to come.

Isn't it time we quit having to wade across the streets after a rain storm? This bond issue of $200,000.00 will do it, and will stop destruction of private property by storm water rushing over it.

NUMBER FOUR

This bond issue is for $350,000.00 for the paving of streets in the city, and for the opening of new streets. The worth of a paved street to a community is much more than its cost.

It is now impossible to issue certificates of indebtedness such as has been done in the past, and the city must have a fund of money as a "floating loan" to provide for payment of paving bills. This would take a portion of this issue, the other would be used in the resurfacing of streets that are wearing out.

NUMBER FIVE

This bond issue is for $150,000.00 to widen the bed of the Neshannock Creek above the Washington street bridge, and provide a retaining wall that would prevent the water from overflowing the streets.

Some little work has been done along these lines, and much has been accomplished in flood prevention. Why not spend enough money to assure the business district from being overflowed when the Neshannock Creek goes on a rampage.

Remember the flood of 1913?

CAN WE AFFORD IT?

If all of these improvements were to be paid for immediately we could not afford it. But like the purchase of your home, cities can make improvements upon the installment plan and this installment plan is known as a bond issue.

The bonds would be issued to run for thirty years. If they were all issued next year, which would not be done, the maximum cost to the taxpayer owning a home assessed at $5,000.00 would be eight dollars per year.

If they were issued over a period of four years, the cost to the owner of a home assessed at $5,000.00 would be between five and six dollars per year.

The man who owns no property, and who merely pays an occupation tax, would pay but a few cents of the burden. Collectively the cost to us all will be $1,250,000.00 plus interest, for the improvements. Individually it means but a small cost.

Improvements Cost Money But the Improvements Will Be to Your Advantage

VOTE YES ON THE BOND ISSUE!

We have made a thorough investigation of the proposed bond issues and believe them to be for the good of New Castle. We indorse the above advertisement.

Bedridden Six Months

I Am Now Doing My Own Housework.

I was all run down with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart (often getting black in the face and thought to be dying), and for six months I was confined to my bed. A relative of mine who had been troubled with female weakness and nervous prostration and had been cured by Thompson's Barosma, recommended it to me. I began to take the Barosma at once and was not only cured of nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart, but began to gain back my flesh, and from that time on until now have been perfectly well, doing my own housework.—Mrs. Ely M. Marsh, Titusville, Pa.

When constipation is present Golden Lax Tablets (25 and 50 cents) should always be taken. Thompson's Barosma $1.00 for sale at all drug stores.

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—One hundred and two small children of the beginners and primary departments of the Christian church and 50 mothers enjoyed a masked party given by the teachers and officers of the Sunday school Monday night.

The party was a success from all angles and the little guests cut many capers in their bright costumes as they romped through numerous games.

A suitable menu concluded the party. Members of the committee in charge were: Mrs. Stella Welsh, Mrs. George Hess, Miss Thelma Burns, Miss June Bruhl, Mrs. Charles Huffer and Mrs. C. G. Huffer.

Children's Service Monday Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—The first children's service of the preaching mission was held yesterday afternoon at 4:15 in St. Luke's church. An enthusiastic group of children undertook their project of making a model church. The story which Mr. Clarke told them was about Winifred, or Boniface, as he is sometimes called, the apostle of Germany.

The instruction at the evening service concerned worship, the "tuning of the instrument", the church, which God is using for the establishment of His kingdom.

Taking his text from the first epistle of Peter, "Fleshly lusts which war against the soul", Mr. Clarke preached about "the new social morality".

The services for Tuesday are: women's conference at three, "Christ in the Home", children's service at 4:15, "What Do We Do in Church?" evangelistic service at 7:30, "The Duty of Self-Realization".

Class Members At Masque Party

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—Twenty-five members of class No. 2 of the Bell Memorial church enjoyed a meeting at the home of Mrs. Howard White of First avenue Monday evening.

All the members wore costumes and a general good time was had. A short business session took place after which games and contests were enjoyed. Later seasonal refreshments were served by the hostess at which time she was assisted by Mrs. Frank Gillespie, Mrs. John King, Mrs. Frank Relph and Mrs. Mary Hill.

Kiwanians Hear Bold Facts On U. S. Constitution

Ralph Shaffer, Historian From High School, Gives Fine Talk

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 29.—Members of the Kiwanis club enjoyed an address by Ralph Shaffer of the high school last night on the occasion of their weekly dinner meeting in the dining room of the Lutheran church.

Mr. Shaffer averred that the highly discussed 18th amendment and its breakage was not nearly the menace to the constitution and the government that the tariff controversy is. He stated that there is more danger in sectionalism between the industrial east and the Agrarian west over the tariff question that will take years to solve.

Dancers from the local dancing school displayed their skill at the meeting and 12 farmers were present in the observance of agriculture night.

J. W. Humphrey To Talk To Club

* APPROVED
Fall floor coverings
NOW ON DISPLAY
—Floortex and Inlaid Linoleum

From among America's leading specialists, a "Committee of Authority" has been selected to test, gauge and insure that these floor coverings are correct in detail. They have given their approval with the following comments.

ARCADIA BLUE-RUG
Louis W. Frothingham, one of New York's leading Interior Decorators, says: "The harmonious tones of each of these patterns blend perfectly to make that unity and charm so vital to the floor."

FUTURA GREEN-FLOortex
Marcel Olla, widely known New York Artist and Designer, says: "Design upon your floors may make or mar the entire room. It can give a new touch of liveliness to an entire room. Certain-teed Products have my most hearty approval."

MARBELITE BLUE-INLAID
From Eldona Oliver Ferguson, for eight years Extension Specialist in the South, come these words: "Years of wear, easy to clean by light mopping, comfort under foot and beautiful floors, these are what you receive in Certain-teed linoleum and felt-base floor coverings."

Says Henry W. Banks III, one of America's foremost consulting chemists: "Certain-teed Floor coverings have a remarkable quality, a resistance to wear, and abrasion. The tests I made greatly increased my appreciation of the economy of using such floor coverings."

ARCADIA BLUE-RUG

"Arcadia" is an appropriate name for this happy design which may be used in dining room, living room or bedroom. It would be attractive used with yellow walls. The furniture could be either the natural wood finish or blue. If the latter choice is made two chairs, possibly those flanking a chest of drawers, should be painted the coral color of one of the flowers in the rug.

FUTURA GREEN-FLOortex

The freshness of the green and coral floor scheme and the vividness of the design make "Futura" an especially delightful choice for sunroom, kitchen, breakfast room or hallway. Of course, the furniture should be green and the upholstery and accessories pick up the coral and black notes.

Color ensemble effects of this kind so clearly suggested by the floor covering always result in a charming room.

MARBELITE BLUE-INLAID

The design and lovely cobalt blue of "Marbelite" would be stunning in a kitchen, sunroom or colorful living room. Imagine, for instance, a sunroom with delicate parchment colored walls, black wrought iron wall sconces, and possibly blue latticework against one wall. The furniture is unpainted reed with cushions covered in a black green and rose flowered chintz. The windows have only soft henna draw curtains and a blue cornice.

MANOCHOW COCOA (Floortex) RUG

A charming living room color ensemble of blue, cocoa, jade green and mulberry is suggested by "Manochow." The pale cocoa tones are for walls, while the Chinese blue and mulberry should appear in the upholstery and the jade green in the lamp bases, pillows and accessories. Blue or mulberry over-drapes will aid in drawing the interest of the rug up into the room.

A circle is the same at every point. That is why the Even-Heat Burner is built on the circle principle. The basis of its design is 14 circles. Each is the same size. Each has the same number of gas holes or ports. The result is a burner that delivers a uniform heat to every part of the cooking utensil. It eliminates gas waste, reduces gas bills and gives better cooking results.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Story Of The World War
152—Proposed American Zone Of Operations

AFTER DECIDING UPON A PLAN OF ACTION FOR THE AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE, GENERAL PERSHING CONSULTED THE ALLIED CHIEFS UPON THE QUESTION OF THE ZONE OF OPERATION FOR THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE WESTERN FRONT.

IT WAS AGREED THAT THE AMERICAN ARMY WHEN READY SHOULD TAKE OVER THE FRONT FROM THE SWISS BORDER. THIS WAS A LOCAL SELECTION AS THE BRITISH ON THE CHANNEL, AND THE FRENCH HAD TO COVER PARIS.

THE ESTABLISHMENT OF THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE ALSACE-LORRAINE FRONT WOULD ALLOW IT TO BE SUPPLIED FROM THE COAST WITHOUT ITS LINE OF COMMUNICATION CROSSING THOSE OF THE FRENCH AND BRITISH, WHICH WERE ALREADY CHOKED WITH TRAFFIC.

THEN, TOO, THE AMERICANS WOULD HAVE A CHANCE TO STRIKE A DECISIVE BLOW AT THE ENEMY FROM THIS SECTOR, AS A DEEP THRUST TOWARD METZ WOULD GIVE THE ALLIES POSSESSION OF THE IMPORTANT COAL AND IRON MINES OF THAT REGION, AND CUT THE LINES SUPPLYING THE GERMAN ARMIES IN THE NORTH. TOMORROW—G.H.Q. ESTABLISHED AT CHAUMONT.

France Boasts Wine Harvest Is Best For Years

Paris Can't Decide On Location
To Memory Of Late
Marshal Foch

NO UNEMPLOYMENT IS FOUND IN FRANCE

By ALICE LANGELEIER
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
PARIS, Oct. 29.—With the wine harvest in the Bordeaux region completed, reports come that the crop is of large quantity and of excellent quality. If expectations are fulfilled, it is believed that this harvest will rank among the best.
There were also good harvest reports from the Champagne district and it is stated that prices will be greatly reduced. In some of the regions prices have been more than halved and the question has now come up of including wine in the cost of the "vin compris" days. It is argued that consumption would thus be developed and people would again get the taste for wine which they have almost lost because it has been too dear to buy.
Parisians are very anxious to put up a statue to the honor of the late Marshal Foch, but they can't decide where to put it. It has been agreed that the statue be an equestrian one, but where shall it be placed?

One woman, writing to one of the dailies, suggests the square in front of the Gare de l'Est, the East Station, because it would then be in the direction of the eternal aggressor from the east, which the general repulsed.
Another feminine reader prefers the parvis of Notre Dame, but there are many who do not wish to associate faith so much with military prowess.
One man urges that the monument be raised at the head of the great stairs in front of the basilica of Sacre Coeur where it would dominate Paris forever.
The place de la Concorde has votes from some and the military school where the Marshal taught is the choice of others.

Another war hero has recently received his plaque of honor. This is the famous "Pigeon of Verdun," a courageous bird which carried a message through from the defenders, flying through thick smoke and gas fumes for several miles. It was actually cited in the dispatches of the day for bravery.
The plaque which has recently been put up at Verdun bears above the inscription a poilu's helmet and on the helmet a pigeon in flight. This was the last pigeon left to the defenders and their last means of communication with the relief forces.

Opportunities for work in France for the skilled laborer and farmhand are abundant these days, because of the new Italian regulations which have practically closed the stream of emigrants into French territory. In Germany and England, recent statistics show that France registers no more than 500 unemployed and there is a great dearth of farmhands and laborers for building trades and factories.

Poland is supplying more laborers for France than any other nation, but there is also a large recruitment of Rumanians, Czechoslovakians and Hungarians.

Work for the intelligent classes, on the other hand, is as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth and France is warning all foreigners to stay at home unless they have promise of a breadwinning position or sufficient means to live.

Requirements For Successful Clergy

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Oct. 29.—Humanism, simplicity, balance and measure, naturalism, ideality, patience, joy and fellowship.
Those were the eight elements necessary to the successful preacher, according to President Daniel L. March, of Boston University.
"The passion of humanity," he said, "the love for his fellows, must be present in each man who would be successful in his ministry. The element of personality is all important. Slavery was a sin against personality. Slavery was a sin against personality. Slavery was a sin against personality."
"In all the world there are only three great discoveries," Dr. March stated. "These are the discovery of God, the discovery of Man, and the discovery of the laws and forces of nature. Of these, the last is the least important."

AIR SAFETY

While there are many items of airplane accidents in the papers there is but a small percentage of accidents in regularly scheduled air service. Those who wish to fly will cut accidents to a minimum if they will insist on flying only in licensed passenger planes with experienced pilots. Look for NC or C, with a number after the letter. Center your interest on scheduled routes and stick to licensed pilots and you will be in little, if any more, danger than traveling on the earth.

DRIVING

Most states have a definite speed limit for automobiles. Some set maximum speed at 35, some 40 and some 45 miles per hour. A few states, more wisely managed, do not fix a definite limit but have a sound and sensible law which demands safe, sane and courteous driving and gives officers the power to make arrests when rules are not complied with, no matter what the speed. Fixing speed limits is not the best approach to bad driving. What drivers most need to learn is caution and care. They are frequently as reckless as faster drivers. A law with teeth in it, which does not fix a definite limit, will get best results.

SELLING YOURSELF TO THE BOSS

Some men spend as much time trying to sell themselves to the boss as they do at their real job. The only way to do a thorough job of selling yourself to your employer is to do your work so well you make him dependent on you. Not that you will ever be indispensable. Nobody is. But you can get him to the point where he will hate to think about getting along without you. You will never get into that position by wise-cracks or by consciously trying to make a good impression.

REMEMBRANCE AGAIN

Speaking of remembrance, Armistice Day is near. There will be parades, programs, balls and other kinds of celebration. The big idea of remembering the anniversary of the armistice is to remember the sacrifice of young men, the high cost of honor and service, the grief and pain and loss for a cause that seemed worth while. Armistice Day should not be the occasion for glorifying war, for creating propaganda for armies and navies. It is a day for gratitude and the remembrance of heroes.

Above all, Armistice Day is the time for determining once again the tolerance and idealism and the spirit of service of the war period shall not have been marred in vain. If men died, we must not let it be said they died for nothing.

HUNTER UNABLE TO

PAY $12 FINE MUST SERVE 212 DAYS

GREENSBURG, Pa., Oct. 29.—Arrested on four charges of violating the state game laws, Angelo Polgena, 54 of Latrobe, was brought to the county jail to begin serving a 212 day sentence. He was fined a total of $12 and when he was unable to pay, was sentenced to serve one day in jail for each dollar of the fine.

Polgena was arrested for killing an opossum and a rabbit out of season employing unlawful methods in catching game, and hunting and killing game out of season while being an un-naturalized citizen.

The defendant was alleged to have placed 13 snares near his home in Derry township to catch rabbits.

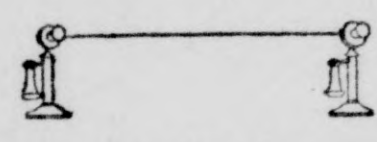

Too darn many automobiles have got two vacuum tanks, one under the car's hood and one under the driver's hat.

COMPLEXITY

THERE were 2 telephones in 1876. Today there are nearly 20,000,000 in the United States alone.

With this tremendous growth has come an ever-increasing complexity.

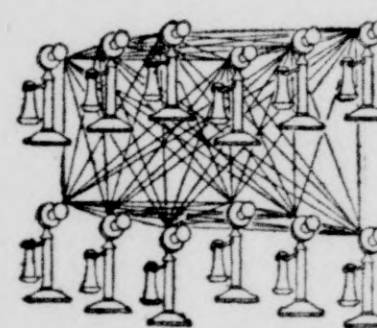

To provide complete inter-communication throughout a telephone system, there must be routes leading from each individual telephone to every other telephone.

If there were only two telephones, only one such route would be needed.

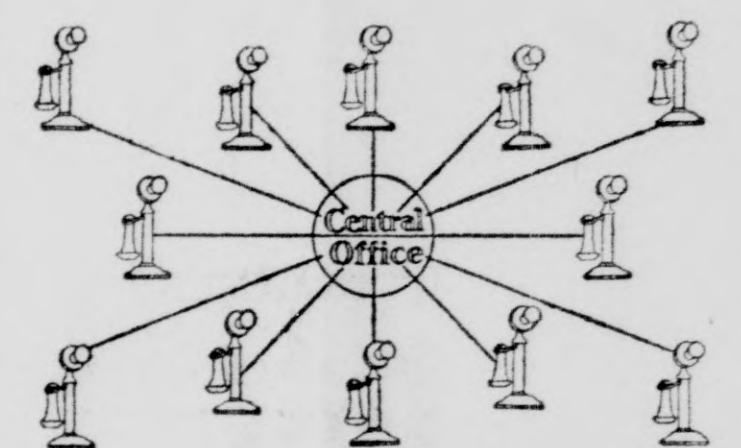

For six telephones, 15 routes would be required, 3 times as many telephones—15 times as many routes.

And for 12 telephones, 66 routes would have to be provided, 6 times as many telephones—66 times as many routes.

Actually there is only one pair of wires running from your telephone. The tremendous complexity of the telephone system is concentrated at the Central Office from which routes to other telephones radiate. So in reality the layout for a system serving 12 telephones would be like this . . .

The more telephones there are the more complex the telephone system—and there are nearly 20,000,000 in the United States alone!

THE Central Office is the heart of the system—a system so flexible that it will take your voice across the street, across the continent, even across the Atlantic—so delicate that 1,800 conversations can pass at the same time through a cable no larger around than your wrist.

Great inventions—constant improvements and refinements of equipment—great expenditures year after year—have made it possible for the growing service to keep pace with its growing complexity.

New Million Gallon Reservoir Finished; Placed In Service

Just three months from the date on which it was started the new million dollar reservoir which has been under construction at the Water company pump station and filter plant on the Shenango river, has just been completed and put into service.

The cost of this new unit is $65,000, and Superintendent H. B. Richards states that the new basin would not be necessary and would not have been built if the Water company did not have faith in the future of New Castle.

The reservoir is known as a settling basin being of one million gallons capacity and is a duplicate of the basin which has been in use. These two basins are used to coagulate the solid mud and other particles in the raw water and settle them out before the raw water goes to the filters. The raw water from the river is pumped into the basins through a number of risers which divide the water into a fine spray the purpose being to get the oxygen of the air into the water to burn out the iron and otherwise assist the basins in their operation.

Depending on the condition of the raw water which frequently changes, alum, lime or iron, or none of them are used to aid in the coagulating process and the coagulating process can be readily observed in operation by walking the length of the basin. The mud in the river is in such a finely divided state that the particles are too small to settle out of their own weight and the necessary chemicals are added to change the electrical content of the particles so that they will have an affinity for each other and so gather together in bunches as large as a pin head. In this state they are heavy enough to settle to the bottom of the basin taking down with them practically all of the dangerous bacteria.

The purpose of the basins is to relieve the filters of a large part of the load.

The new basin, together with the old one are both enclosed by a woven wire fence and the embankments surrounding them are being graded sodded and when the grass comes up the whole station will look like a park.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

The Castle lobby is crowded today with strange women, that is they are strange to New Castle. The Daughters of the Revolution began checking in last night and today the desk clerks have been busy registering delegates from all over the state.

An interesting group if you stop and think who and what they are. Not one of them but is a lineal descendant of some Revolutionary War soldier. Fact is that is the main qualification for admission to the order. That and the fact that you have to be a woman.

Some of the great great grandfathers of the women at this convention crossed the Delaware with Washington. Some of them were at Valley Forge. Others were with Allen and Greene, with Pulaski or Lincoln, but somewhere you will find an ancestor who shouldered a musket in the fight for American freedom.

Some of them go back even farther than the Revolution. Some of them have ancestors who came over on the Mayflower, which you will admit was about the first chance they had to come out to this country.

The D. A. R. is the organization I could never hope to join. Nor any of the Mayflower organizations. It seems that some of my forebears had some Scotch in them, and they waited for excursion rates to come over. The Mayflower wasn't selling reduced fares and so they stayed over on the other side.

Get your flag out today and show the ladies you are glad they are here. New Castle is pleased at the honor the state organization has paid us by choosing New Castle as the conference city. Let's show them that we are pleased.

When you get your car inspected, don't get the idea that your inspection certificate is a guarantee against defects for the rest of your life. Notice a number of cars that have been inspected, running with one light the past few evenings.

For a flock of fun, try the South Side tomorrow evening. The Halloween celebration is being put on down there, and the boys don't fool. All the prizes are in cash, so if you need a little extra cash, get dressed up.

Then on Thursday night the Uptown celebration is being held, with more prizes being given away. Both of them are worth attending. Bring the kiddies along.

TOOK CATHARTICS EVERY NIGHT

Eating ALL-BRAN Relieved Constipation

Everybody who is slave to cathartics and laxatives will be interested in this letter—

"I took cathartic pills every night and enemas daily to relieve myself and take away the awful headaches I was subject to. Two months ago I started eating a large bowl of your ALL-BRAN with cream for breakfast and today I am in fine condition, better than I have been in three years. My bowels are regular every day. I have not taken one cathartic pill in two months!"—Mrs. A. J. O'Connell, 52 Phelps Ave., Rochester, N. Y.

Constipation gets in its deadly work when bulk is left out of the diet. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, however, will supply this bulk. It sweeps the intestine clean and stimulates normal action. Two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

Thousands have regained their old-time vigor and relieved constipation forever by eating ALL-BRAN. Doctors recommend it.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Delicious recipes for muffins, breads, etc., on the package. Grocers sell it. Restaurants, hotels, dining-cars serve it. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Fifteen Russian Peasants Killed

Soviet Political Police Put To Death Fifteen Wealthy Peasants In Report

FEELING IS HIGH AGAINST OFFICIALS

(International News Service)
MOSCOW, Oct. 29.—Continuing its determined campaign to stamp out all members of the counter-revolutionary movements, the O. G. U. S. (Soviet political police) today summarily executed 15 wealthy peasants and sentenced 10 others to death on charges of murdering or attempting to murder Soviet officials at Novosibirsk, Tomsk and in this vicinity.

Meanwhile feeling is running high among the Kulaks, as the wealthy peasants are called, owing to the Soviet government's attempts to convert individual farm holdings into large collective farms.

Rate farmers banded together and burned to the ground the entire village of Granke, near here. Forty-eight farms, containing 192 buildings, which were recently organized into one collective farm, were destroyed.

Now Parking Autos Here Where Canal Boats Plied

With the opening of the public parking ground near the Central Fire Station, old timers here are remarking that there is quite a co-incidence that the same site provided for one of the earliest modes of transportation, and now one of the latest.

The site of the public parking plot is in line of the old canal that went through the city. Some twenty five years or more ago, the canal bed was filled in, although boats had not been operated for years prior to that time.

The site however was at one time the scene of busy activity as canal boats were hauled up and down from the route of the canal near the Shenango river to the wharf, which was near the spot where the New Castle Dry Goods Company building is located.

WHAT IS PITTSBURGH TERMINAL COAL?

The Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Company now known as the North American Coal Corporation, operates coal mines with main offices in Cleveland, Ohio.

The General public has been given to understand that "Pittsburgh Terminal Coal" is mined from only one mine. This is NOT TRUE. The Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Company now known as the North American Coal Corporation, operates several mines throughout the Pittsburgh district and coal from any of these mines is Pittsburgh Terminal Coal.

Bellevue High To Play Here Friday Night

BY RUPE GOLDBERG

Danver Prepares Bellevue Eleven For Tough Game

New Castle High Will Have Hard Battle Here Friday Night With Bellevue Team

GAME TO START AT 8 O'CLOCK

By "BUGS" WALTHER

COACH DANVER is giving his Bellevue high school football squad some real workouts this week. On Friday night, the Allegheny Countians are called upon to face New Castle high's Bearcat outfit at Franklin Field.

The Bellevue coach is probably a ying something like this to his charges: "Remember that licking you took at New Castle last year 38 to 6?"

"Well are you going to let the Bridenbaugh machine crush you again, or are you going up there Friday night, to show the football fans of Lawrence county, something real in the way of gridiron ferocity?"

"The Bellevue squad more than likely will answer in the affirmative and everything will be lovely."

Bellevue Works Hard. The Danver team has been in and out all season, one day they look like a million bucks and the next day, zowie, they look like second-raters. It may be that they are "on" when they hit New Castle Friday evening. If they are, then the local Bearcats are in for an evening of tussle. Seckvick high caught the Bellevue boys when they were on the "up" and fell 35 to 0. North Braddock high happened along at a time when the barrier wasn't so good, and took a 13 to 6 victory.

New Castle will have to play head-up football to smash the Bellevue team to pieces. Just because California was "so easy" don't think that Bellevue is going to prove the same dish.

Coach Danver is a Geneva college product and that means he knows football. I guess maybe he learned some of it under Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh. Another pupil versus teacher contest, with plenty of thrills.

Watch Hannon-Thomas. Bridenbaugh is grooming Hannon and Thomas for another "track-meet". These two boys certainly burned up a lot of ground last Friday. The New Castle offensive attack for the first time this year showed potentialities. Did that New Castle line play football in the game last week? They did and how they played. When Hannon and Thomas wanted to go places and score touchdowns the interference formed on left or the right which ever side of the field the boys decided to scurry down, and the big husky linemen led the way. New Castle's line-play of last week couldn't be improved upon much. Big "Red" McIntosh now holding down the pivot post was a tower of strength to the locals, leading the interference for Hannon and playing a fine game on the defense backing up the line in great style. The California backfield men found a stiff barrier if they did manage to break through the first wall.

The game Friday night will start at 8 o'clock. It will probably be the final night game of the year.

Crimson Team To Play Waynesburg Coming Saturday

Coach Charlie Berry Drives Grove City College Squad Through Stiff Workouts

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 29.—While the Grove City College campus still rings with enthusiasm over the Geneva game, Coach Berry has his football squad hard at work on College field. It was just another game in the bag for the popular Grove coach, whose actions as the weekly practices started showed that his team still needs plenty of work.

Waynesburg comes to Grove City for the week-end football attraction. The down state school was one of the three district teams to tie the Grovers last year and have always been a hard team for Grove City to beat. To avoid a repetition of last year's 0-0 game, Coach Berry today started correcting faults disclosed in the Geneva game.

Backfield men were drilled on end runs and short end bucks at today's session. Several times at 1-eves stadium Saturday crimson backs failed to cut at the proper time, collided with their own interference, and were dropped for losses. Against strong wingmen this fault may prove disastrous in the Waynesburg, Allegheny and Marshall games, according to Coach Berry.

Grove City's play against the Covingtons was highly satisfactory as a whole. Line plays were especially effective, the crimson backs getting many yards through the holes opened by the forwards. Another pleasing feature was the fine play of the reserves who finished the game. Rapenovic, first year back, furnished the thrill of the day with his 50-yard run through the entire Geneva team.

STUMPED THE WAITER. A deaf man went to a restaurant with a friend.

Waiter—What will you have to eat, sir?

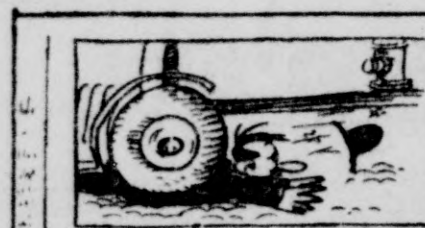

Friend—Nothing.

Waiter (to deaf man). And you, sir?

Deaf Man—The same as my friend, but with potatoes.—Faun, Vienna.

Young Roosevelt's Spanish has been perfected, it is reported, to the point that he can call for a Corona without the aid of an interpreter.

Surrounding Cities To Send Delegations

Firpo-Burns 10-Round Bout At Bowl Monday Attracting Fight Fans

LOCAL FAVORITES HAVE OPPOSITION

By ED FRITZ
Henry Firpo and Johnny Burns will draw several hundred fans from Oil City and Franklin when they clash here next Monday night according to Jake Pitler, boxing promoter of Oil City. Last night the writer traveled to Oil City to see Johnny McCoy beat Jackie Rodgers and after the bout Pitler made his announcement.

Firpo kayoed Red Riley and beat Al Tozzi, brother to Rocky Kansas in a 10 round bout and is a favorite in that section. Burns record is known to the fans of the oil district and realizing that it will be far above the ordinary fight the promoter asked that a big block of seats be saved.

The same intention prevails in Sharon, Greenville and also Meadville as Louie Severio comes from Meadville. He is to fight Al Reno of Youngstown. The junior lightweight staged a hair-raising match here a week ago Monday. Severio was down three times then put over a knockout on Reno's jaw.

Good Preliminaries
Martin Mazzeo who meets Romeo Paccelli in the six rounder is a former New Castle boy and was recommended to fill the berth against Romeo by Firpo, who pronounced him a good fighter. This is enough to help key up the fans of this city.

Beaver Falls, Ambridge, New Brighton, Aliquippa and Butler will also send delegations to the bowl and it looks like a big night for Burns and Firpo. Should Firpo be successful in knocking out Burns with a right hand punch he will make an auspicious entry into Chicago.

Frankie Lance, local bantam will clash with a tough customer in Tony Boddia of Cleveland. It was Boddia who held Marshall Crocette even. Billy Murphy, the rugged Polish puncher from Ryantown will have to be in the best of shape to travel along with Harry Thomas of Cleveland.

MAKE GOOD STEWARDS
A steamship company operating between eastern ports and South America has decided to employ only women stewards for dining room work since a trial trip revealed that they do not desert the ship or overstay shore leaves.

ENTERS CONVENT
Miss Mary Cornelius McGillicuddy, an ardent baseball fan, and daughter of the manager of the Philadelphia Athletics baseball team, has entered a novitiate of a convent.

Union-Mercer To Clash Here Friday

Mercer Lads Out To Revenge Defeat At Hands Of Union Last Year

Mercer high school will come to New Castle next Friday evening to clash with Coach D. M. Boyd's undefeated Union high school eleven. The local mentor is expecting a hard tussle with the Mercer lads and will have his proteges in the best of condition for the game this week.

Union came out of the Hickory game in fine shape, none of the players being hurt and every member will be prepared for the hard practice sessions which will follow this week.

Mercer won from Hickory one week ago by a close score. They were defeated by the strong Bessemer team on Friday and are waiting to spoil Union's winning streak and to get revenge for the defeat Union handed them on their home field last year.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Oct. 29.—There appeared a possibility today that the Phils, the Philadelphia National League baseball club, will take over the local club franchise of the Eastern League or arrange an agreement, whereby, the Dukes will operate as a farm for the Philadelphia club during the 1930 season. The Phils officials are to make their decision today.

Billy Wallace-Patsy Ruffalo Fight In Garden Is Halted By Referee

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—For the first time since inauguration of the Walker law legalizing boxing in this state, the state athletic commission today was faced with rendering a decision in a "no contest" bout.

The "no contest" affair came last night when Referee Jack Denning called a halt to the Billy Wallace-Patsy Ruffalo main event affair in the eighth round, declaring the fighters were doing entirely too much clinching slapping and holding.

The fighters purses were held up.

Knute Rockne's Condition Said To Be Serious

Trip To Pittsburgh With Irish Team Last Saturday Aggravated Leg-Clot

(International News Service)
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 29.—Physicians today watched at the bedside of Knute Rockne, football strategist of Notre Dame University, as his condition was reported to be serious.

Doctors have ordered that complete seclusion be maintained at his home where he is staying. His telephone has been disconnected.

The trip to Pittsburgh Friday for the Carnegie Tech game is believed to have aggravated the leg blood clot, which has kept him bed-ridden for the past three weeks.

Rockne will not accompany his squad to Atlanta, Ga., this week-end for the game with Georgia Tech, regardless of any improvement he might show, it was announced here.

SORDS POINTS

Old Bald Eagle Of Football Uncovers Another One

By JACK SORDS.
Sports Cartoonist Writer for Central Press.

Another proof of the coaching genius of Knute Rockne the Notre Dame Wizard is the brand of football being displayed by big raw-boned Joe Savoldi at fullback for the Irish this year.

Savoldi was anything but a grid star when he came to the South Bend university from Three Oaks, Mich., in 1927. But he was big, weighing more than 200 pounds and what is more important, he was fast being able to cover 100 yards in 10 seconds. With such a combination of heft and speed Coach Rockne realized the possibilities of this boy.

Joe played on the freshman team during his first year and showed a lot of natural ability. Last fall he tried out for the varsity but was relegated to the "B" team where his work as a line plunger and an open field runner earned him a position with the check troops this year.

He started the first game with Indiana to do big things, but when he failed to bother the Navy eleven the following Saturday his worth was questioned.

Then came the Wisconsin game and a display of such all-around ability on Savoldi's part that left no doubt that the big boy had arrived. He tore the Badger line to pieces for gain after gain, featuring with two long runs for touchdowns of 40 and 71 yards.

Savoldi is probably the fastest fullback in the country and now that he has mastered the teachings of his coach there appears nothing but disaster for opposing teams.

Recent Exposure Of College Athletics Fails To Dim Crowd

Collegiate Football More Firmly Entrenched Than Ever Is Belief

Thousands Watch Leading Gridders Of Nation Go Through Paces Each Week

By DAVID J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—In spite of the fretful disquiet of the professional head-shaker, American football seems to be bearing up quite gallantly today under the onerous burden of the new rules were supposed to place upon its carcass. The 1928 season passed the four-furlong post last Saturday and, if anyone has been going around complaining bitterly about the situation, he has failed to come to the writer's notice. The current code, in fact, seems to have been accepted without comment of any kind and there would seem to be only one conclusion to be gained from state of affairs like that: the conclusion in question is that intercollegiate football is a bigger game than its rules.

Heart Failure as Fad.
Anyhow, nobody can say now that the 1929 code has taken the drama out of football. They did say so last spring, when the "free ball," except on blocked kicks, was legislated out of existence by a rules committee which evidently felt that safety was to be desired over excitement. What-ever its intent may have been, the committee still has its safety and football its thrill and glow and color. As a matter of fact, if it became any more exciting than it did in the Army-Harvard, Army-Yale and Navy-Princeton games of recent week-end, heart failure would cease to be a disease. It would become a fad.

So, from the spectator's standpoint, everything seems to be strictly kosher, technically, there is nothing wrong, either. In fact, football now appears to be played on a basis that permits the better team to win and, if this isn't as it should be, then the world has been conducted in a very impractical manner for a great many years. Anyhow, form no longer is being flouted with almost indecent regularity. The good team usually wins, the better team always does and the handicapper who can't "tout" 85 percent of the winners from Saturday to Saturday simply doesn't belong.

Upsets Do Occur.
Upsets do occur, of course. Oglethorpe beat Georgia, Springfield beat Brown, Brown beat Princeton, Iowa beat Illinois and Indiana beat Ohio State. But these were earned legitimately, for the most part. There was no fumble and run for a touchdown to effect the results. It simply happened that the team that thought it was better that day, was. I might mention Yale's victory over Army or North Carolina's defeat of Georgia Tech, in this connection, since the winners not only were the better teams on the days in question but still may be, as far as anyone knows. The new fumble rule undoubtedly has made football a sander, saner proposition in this respect.

The rule, too, has had another effect that many didn't foresee. It has prompted punt-catchers and ball-runners in general to handle the ball with greater confidence, with the result that the attack is a smoother, more effective weapon. They know that the worst they can lose on a fumble is the ball and not the game, so they conduct themselves accordingly. Booth's run for the winning touchdown against the Army wouldn't have been possible if he had played the ball safely. Eisan, the California quarterback, was catching them like a centerfielder in the Pennsylvania game, which meant that he had the jump on the opposing ends all day long. Lom was outkicked by Marsters but Eisan's gambling catches wiped out the indebtedness every time. So much for one of the new rules. It worked to the advantage of a team that was willing to make the most of the rule's possibilities.

Lateral Pass Hurts.
Another more or less new rule, covering the lateral pass, saw Pennsylvania give itself a break. This play so disturbed a Yale defense last year that Harvard won by two touchdowns. In the Penn-California game it permitted an inferior team to take the lead temporarily. What, then, if the superior team had elected to use it? Frankly, few teams seem to realize the possibilities of the lateral pass and background, is not one of its rugby

All of them will be using it one of these days and then, in my opinion, you will see an attack so diversified and compelling that they will have to change the rules again. But, until they do, the present code ought to suffice. For football is a great game, under any rules, and those in effect now might be worse.

Victory Gives Sophomore Eleven Class League Championship; Never Defeated

The Sophomore class football team of Senior high won the Class league pennant for 1929 on Monday afternoon at Franklin field by defeating the Junior eleven 6-0 in a hard fought grid battle.

The Sophomores scored in the second period on a series of plunges and passes. Sotus the husky fullback crossed the goal line for the sole marker of the game in a plunge.

The Sophs with last night's win have yet to taste defeat and among their victories was one over the Ben Franklin Junior high school team. The league winners came as close as the three yard line to score again but failed due to a 25 yard penalty. Bender, Sotus and Ciccone played well for the winners while Harris and Bartley were the best for the losers.

A Cat An' Dog Fight

Nebraska Wild Cat vs. New Jersey Bulldog, for the middleweight championship of the world. That's what's on the card for Los Angeles tomorrow night, when Ace Hudkins, ferocious feline from the tall corn jungles, rip into Champion Micky Walker in a scheduled ten-rounder, which should be all that the world torrid can describe or imply.

This will be their second bout, the champion winning the first on a rather bad decision in Chicago about a year ago. The Ace came mighty close to trouncing the middleweight king on that occasion, and it is an undoubted tribute to Walker's courage that he (and the cautious Jack Kearns) will give Hudkins another crack at the crown.

Of course, the experts have it that in comparatively short bouts, the Cat will be outpointed usually by a more skilled boxer and the champion figures to be such. Hudkins is one of those slam-bang battlers who might have been a champion in the days of fights lasting twenty rounds or more. Ace can take punishment like Bat Nelson once did, and he can hand it out, too, like Ad Wolgast in his prime.

Buller Believes Public Should Own Fishing Streams

HARRISBURG, Oct. 29.—N. R. Buller, commissioner of fisheries, today asserted that the time is fast approaching when public ownership of good fishing streams will be necessary.

in the state-owned forests all of the smaller waters are subject to private regulation. Streams on the reserves of the game commission are closed to fishermen. This course was found necessary to prevent illegal hunters from assuming the guise of fishermen.

The fish commission early in its existence adopted a policy of refusing any waters to fishing except those in the game preserves and public parks or within the corporate limits of cities or towns.

Start Revival At Hoover Heights

Rev. T. J. Keegan Of Moravia Stop Aids In Service Monday

There was an excellent attendance last evening at the revival services being held at the Hoover Heights Tabernacle, Morris street. Rev. T. J. Keegan of Moravia stop was in charge of the opening exercises and music. With the aid of his slide trombone Rev. Keegan led the congregation in a spirited song service. During the testimony service he led choruses with his piano accompaniment.

Special music was given by Mrs. Jacobs, and Mrs. Hegathorn of the Nazarene church sang "God's Blessed Peace." Rev. Keegan sang "The Prodigal," also playing a verse of it on the musical saw. This, he declared, was God's identification with man. Christianity depends on a vital and living union with Christ. Christ does not give life, He is life. Thus He took the initiative, came to sinful man. We must come to Him and He will impart to us His life and He said, "He that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out." They who have His life are all who pass thru the door, which Christ declared Himself to be. "If any man enter in" are the words of Jesus. The result would be they would have, here in this present world, the life of Christ. Many scriptures were used to emphasize this truth. Then would be added the life more abundant, all that is needed to make the life given eminently blessed and joyful. Several responded to the invitation and others raised their hands expressing a desire for this life.

The evening of the Slack party will be present. They will furnish music, instrumental and vocal. Peter Slack, the 15-year-old boy musician, will preside at the piano and play other instruments. The sermon theme tonight, "How to Approach God."

SHOULD BE READY
"I have tickets for the theater."
"Good, I will start dressing at once."
"Do, dear, they are for tomorrow night."—Il Travaso, Rome.

RUPTURE

EXPERT AND AUTHORITY HERE WITH THE FAMOUS HUSTON TRUSS

Dr. Huston, of the Huston Truss Co., New York City, will personally be at The Castle hotel, New Castle Wednesday and Thursday only, October 30th and 31st, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. and offers to the people of this section the Internationally known Huston Truss. This justly famous Truss is universally considered the one perfect and satisfactory instrument for the relief of all kinds of reducible rupture, producing remarkable results without the use of surgical operations or medical treatment of any kind. Instantaneous relief is apparent the moment it is placed in position—contraction of the opening manifest in a few days and the rupture soon disappears permanently in the average case.

The pad on this Truss will hold any reducible rupture perfectly, and will not slip regardless of position or bodily strain of the subject.

YOU CAN SLEEP IN IT—BATH IN IT
No under leg straps elastic webbing or bulky pads are used in its construction. Nothing to wear out, clean and sanitary. Moisture proof and will not chafe. Can be put on or off in five seconds. No other instrument has ever met these demands with such universal endorsement. Guaranteed not to break.

WARNING—You are cautioned against wearing elastic webbing, or the old style Leather Covered Truss, or under leg straps. Such Trusses press in the wrong place, often causing strangulation. WEAR THIRTY-FIVE YEARS SCIENTIFIC STUDY OF RUPTURE WARRANTS THIS STATEMENT.

This Truss is not sold by mail as each part is selected, assembled and fitted by Dr. Huston, especially for each individual case. No guess work, but a scientific fitting of a scientific Truss.

WEAR A HUSTON TRUSS AND FORGET YOUR RUPTURE
BUSINESS DEMANDS DO NOT PERMIT OTHER STOPS IN THIS SECTION

No charge for advice or demonstration. Remember the date and Hotel. Ask for Dr. Huston. Permanent address: Huston Truss Co., 25 Cliff St., New York, N. Y.

Auto Theft Turns Out To Be A Joke

Court House Janitor Is Victim Of Practical Joke Monday

Janitor Clifford James at the court-house parked his car in front of the sheriff's office yesterday and went about his usual duties. When he came to get the car it was gone. ## Voters Are Listed Under Street Names

Lists Of Voters Are Printed By County; Required By New Law

County commissioners this morning received from the printers pamphlets containing the names of all voters in the city, the names and addresses being listed under the street name on which they reside. The lists had to be printed under an act of the recent legislature and entailed considerable expense. The object of the law seems to be to make it easy for candidates to get lists of voters. Heretofore candidates had to employ clerks to write off the lists from the poll books.
